PUBLIC URGED TO UNITE IN PROTEST

Councilman Says People Should Support Craig In Costa Mesa Fight

Councilman Plummer Bruns today made a public demand on the state prison site committee to abandon consideration of the proposed site near Costa Mesa.

"Practically every important organization and body in Orange county has registered vigorous opposition to the plan for putting a penitentiary here," said Mr. Bruns. "Numerous individuals have made similar protests. I know of no organization or body of any kind which has supported the proposition. The only persons I know of who are actively working for the prison are those who will profit financially by its location here."

'No Longer Doubt'

"Orange county has expressed itself vigorously and overwhelmingly against the prison. There is no longer can be any doubt as to the attitude of our people. It is time the prison site committee recognized this fact and stopped delaying action. No good can come from any further delay. The committee should definitely abandon this site at its next meeting."

"I understand that the committee will meet some time this week. Whether it will be a public session I do not know. But at the first opportunity everyone opposed to the prison should appear personally before the committee to make vigorous protests."

"Edward Craig, speaker of the assembly and member of the committee, intends to make a vigorous demand on the committee to eliminate this site and I feel very strongly that the people of Orange county should be on hand to back him up."

Other Opposition

Mr. Bruns recalled that the city council and many other bodies have registered opposition to the prison site. The board of directors of the county water district already has announced that it will send a committee to the next meeting of the prison site group to make an oral protest.

Mine Rescue Fund at $40,000

TORONTO, April 27. (AP)—The Moose river gold mine rescue fund today amounted to $40,000 cash, Norman Somerville, Red Cross society chairman, announced.

The fund money will go to the men who saved Dr. D. E. Robertson and Charles Alfred Scadding of Toronto from death in the mine.

CREMATE HAMMOND

NEW YORK.—Cremation of the body of Percy Hammond, drama critic for the New York Herald Tribune, was arranged for today. Hammond died Saturday night.

DELAY GUFFEY DECISION

WASHINGTON.—The supreme court today again deferred speaking its mind on whether the Guffey coal act squares with the constitution. The decision may be given next Monday.

WALLACE CHANGES PARTY

DES MOINES.—Henry A. Wallace, the New Deal's secretary of agriculture, formally changed his political party from Republican to Democratic today.

KIN EMBARRASS BARON

Ridicule Rites With Dowager

BOSTON, April 27. (AP)—The engagement of wealthy Mrs. Fredric E. Snow, elderly Boston society leader, and her press agent fiancé, 28-year-old Baron Wilhelm Fray of Blumberg, encountered objections on both sides today.

The baron's mother, Mrs. Edward L. Fray, of Lynn, and his foster mother, the Baroness Adelheid Maria von Blumberg, 77, of Boston, said they couldn't see it.

Three years ago the baroness, a cousin of General Werner von Blumberg, Nazi minister of war, adopted the youth who was plain William Fray, of Lynn, and conferred the title upon him despite family objections.

The baron, who lives in a baby-blue colored cottage, is a publicity agent for ice cream, confectionery and fish interests.

Italian Airplane Drops Warning In Addis Ababa

ADDIS ABABA, April 27. (AP)—An Italian airplane circled Addis Ababa today, dropping leaflets threatening destruction of Ethiopia's capital if the advance by Marshal Pietro Badoglio's troops from Dessye were resisted.

"Our mission is to occupy Addis Ababa and Ethiopia for civilization," the leaflets said.

"If Addis Ababa is delivered without resistance, we will not bomb it. Otherwise, we will destroy it all."

The leaflets, signed by Marshal Badoglio's chief of staff, declared that the Italians would enter Addis Ababa soon "with the help of God."

They warned the populace that resistance was futile since the entire Northern Ethiopia was already captured by the Italians, and asked the Ethiopian people to desert Emperor Haile Selassie and pledge their allegiance to Italy.

Selassie's Army Ruined

The Italian plane flew low over the capital, performing stunts while dropping leaflets.

"We have destroyed Haile Selassie's armies and have occupied Dessye," the leaflets proclaimed.

"Soon Harar will be occupied. We are your friends. Make no resistance. Otherwise, the Italian forces will destroy all."

Public Mourning

The Ethiopian government proclaimed a period of public mourning for victims of the war. The services started at midnight with a round of rifle shots, followed by the wailing of mourners.

Princess Tashai issued an appeal "to the women of the world," urging them "for God's sake to join together and get something done before it is too late."

PARIS, April 27.—Sharp Communist gains in Paris and the industrial suburbs, and a pronounced leftist trend elsewhere in the country arose today in returns from France's first vote for a new chamber of deputies.

Failure of candidates in at least two-thirds of the 618 districts to receive the clear majority necessary for election, however, as indicated by incomplete returns, left the results in doubt until next Sunday's run-off elections.

Leftists Expected To Win in Run-Off Of Elections Sunday

In these close contests, the leftists, by consolidating their forces, were expected to emerge victorious, with a small majority for the "people's front" of Communists, Socialists and Radical-Socialists indicated for the new chamber.

The Radical-Socialist party, strongest unit of the people's front, was also the dominant party in the old chamber.

Official returns for 605 of the 618 districts reported that 179 deputies were elected, with 426 run-off elections necessary.

The leftist parties won 62 seats, nine of them Communist, the center 61 and the rightists 56.

Heavy Battling

Anxiety over the possibility of war and discontent because of the business depression made the balloting one of the heaviest in the history of France.

More than 1000 huge trucks formed the thundering line. Most of them carried 16 men each, comprising an entire white army column. The others were auxiliary trucks, to provide for possible breakdown, and bearers of great quantities of supplies.

Hours after their departure, they were approaching the positions of 1000 trucks in line.

Convict Dies In Escape Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27. (AP)—A prisoner made a futile attempt to escape from Alcatraz Island today, and met death when he plunged over a 60-foot cliff as guards fired at him.

Joe Bowers, 40, mail robber, the first inmate of the impenetrable prison to endeavor to escape, died from a broken neck in the fall.

He tried to scale a wire fence enclosing the work area on the west side of the island, over a mile from shore.

Dr. George Hess, chief of the U. S. Public Health Service, said the man suffered a broken neck in the fall and was struck in the right shoulder and thigh by bullets.

N. J. Workers to Demand Action

TRENTON, N. J., April 27. (AP)—Leaders of New Jersey's jobless ordered their forces concentrated at the state capitol today to impress returning legislators, whose seats they occupied six days, with the necessity of providing relief funds. The legislature meets tonight.

Ray Cooke, state chairman of the Workers Alliance, said he expected from 5000 to 7000 unemployed to join in a mass demonstration and demand that the legislature, which for four months has failed to agree on a relief financing program, take action.

Report Cardinal Seriously Ill

ROME, April 27. (AP)—Alessio Cardinal Lepicier, 73, was reported dangerously ill today from general exhaustion.

The official Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano declared his condition was extremely grave.

Cardinal Lepicier, appointed Dec. 19, 1927, is the protector of many American orders including Sisters of St. Joseph, Los Angeles.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 27. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Pauline Lane spent another restless day on a hospital bed today while she awaited the arrival here of a delicate instrument needed to remove a cigaret lighter top from the bottom of her left lung.

The instrument was expected to arrive possibly late today from Philadelphia. Pauline swallowed the bevel-edged, inch-long cap Friday when she laughed while holding it between her teeth.

Giddy? Not Ida!

"I'm not the giddy, flighty creature painted by publicity," Ida Lupino, blonde actress, claims. "I'm intensely religious, she sometimes goes to church, but prays just as effectively at home and often thinks she missed her calling and should have been a missionary. Ida is of the belief that her spiritual philosophy will one day make her 'the richest woman in the world.' She is now writing poetry."

NAVY LEAVES SAN PEDRO

150 Ships, 450 Planes Sail For Six-Week Battle Practice

SAN PEDRO, April 27. (AP)—The United States fleet slipped to sea today in silence and secrecy. Full panopied for war were the 150 ships and 450 fighting aircraft.

Radios are silenced. Ships will be darkened at night. For six weeks the fleet will carry on just as in time of war. These are annual grand maneuvers, the 17th in a series of strategic problems, each based upon some possible international situation, which the naval strategists in Washington mapped to test the fleet's fitness.

The fleet goes South this year, to the Panama Canal region. This rounds out an intensive training of the unit commanders, the navigators, the tacticians, the aviators, the marine landing forces. It broadens their knowledge of the Pacific.

Last year the fleet went North and West. Its operations took in the Aleutian Islands and Alaska area, down along the international date line to Midway Island, mid-Pacific outpost, and the Hawaiian Islands.

The fleet may reach Panama bay on May 8, or the development of tactical and strategic action may delay this to the 12th.

During two weeks in the Canal Zone region various problems will be worked out involving attack and defense of the Panama Canal. Then the fleet will move north about May 25, scheduled to reach home bases June 8.

Mid-West Rain Breaks Drought

KANSAS CITY, April 27. (AP)—Farm fields of four southwestern states were refreshed today by extensive rainfall that broke an unusually long spring dry spell and formed a basis of new hope for crops.

A great wet spot on the weather map covered most of Kansas, North Missouri, Western Oklahoma and the panhandle and plains region of Texas, including the area often stricken by dust storms.

Belated April showers that began Saturday night were connected in some parts of the region, saturating grain land and tending to pasture.

SENATE GETS COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL BILL

SNELL FLAYS GIANT TAX PROGRAM

'Shameful Boondoggling' Attacked in House Debate on Plan

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Republican Leader Snell plunged into the house controversy over the $803,000,000 tax bill today with the assertion that "No sober minded man should vote for new taxes on our people to further encourage this shameful extravagance of political boondoggling."

Snell, who earlier had called on his party members to meet tonight to map strategy to pursue when the measure reaches the amendment stage tomorrow, said he believed the bill would "destroy many small and struggling organizations."

"It will create monopolies and place additional hardships on small organizations which have depleted their reserves during the depression," he contended.

More Difficulties

Difficulties confronting the bulky tax measure were emphasized further when Senator La Follette (P., Wis.), told newsmen he would fight for a boost in individual income and surtaxes when the bill reaches the senate.

Three times, Snell said, congress has been told in the President's budget message that no new taxes would be needed and each time has been called upon later to pass a new tax bill.

"All this proves beyond any shadow of doubt," the minority spokesman said, "that this administration does not have a semblance of a financial problem. Its nearest approach to a budget policy is to spend all the money it can gather in or borrow, in as many ways as possible."

The Wisconsin progressive said he would propose a lowering of personal exemptions from income tax—probably from $2500 to $1500 for married and from $1000 to $800 for single persons; an increase in surtaxes on net incomes up to $50,000, and a boost from 4 to 6 per cent in the normal income levy.

Avoid Division, A. F. L. Head Says

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—William Green, A. F. L. president, today exhorted member unions to shun "any political movement designed to serve as a substitute" for the federation's non-partisan policy.

The labor chief's action followed the formation several weeks ago of "labor's non-partisan league," the avowed purpose of which was to support President Roosevelt and fight enemies of the New Deal.

"For obvious reasons," Green said in a letter to union leaders, "labor should avoid division even in the pursuit of its political policies."

Chamber Launches Membership Drive

The Santa Ana chamber of commerce launched its membership campaign this afternoon following a luncheon for 60 workers in the Green Cat cafe.

The chamber has set a quota of 100 new members. The present membership totals 215.

Thirty teams of two members each will work on the campaign. The membership committee headed by C. A. Warren has prepared a list of businesses which, through their volume, are logical permanent members of the community's business life, it was explained.

Selective Campaign

The campaign will be selective in that membership will be regarded as a privilege as well as a responsibility. It was explained that the chamber wants business men who will help themselves through cooperation with others in chamber of commerce activities, and with other chambers of commerce.

Workers Listed

Conferences are under way. Mr. Wood said, for uniting business men in California chambers of commerce in a movement which is hoped may spread to even larger fields.

Stokowski Greeted in L. A. With 'Music Goes 'round'

LOS ANGELES, April 27. (AP)—Leopold Stokowski, music maestro, and 104 members of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra reached Los Angeles today and were greeted by a Negro jazz band playing, "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round."

The musicians are on tour of 27 cities of the nation.

Stokowski, bare headed but impeccably dressed in gray and green, was standing on the station platform talking with Franchot Tone, movie actor, and music leaders of Los Angeles when the jazz band went into action.

A clarinet, guitar, trombone, cornet and drum blatted and blared away on the musical craze of three months ago. The bandmen said they were there to express appreciation of a selection from "The Afro-American Symphony" to be played by the Philadelphia orchestra on one of its programs.

Stokowski abruptly turned and went back into his car.

The orchestra will appear in concerts here tonight and tomorrow.

Remember Chinatown Bonfire?

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Santa Ana is rapidly approaching the thirtieth anniversary of its great municipal bonfire. And what a fire!

Folks, on May 26, 1906, they burned down virtually a whole block of buildings here. And everyone for miles around came to see the show.

The situation was like this: In the block where the city hall stands and where the Temple theater is now being remodeled, was Santa Ana's Chinatown. One look at those shanties and the imagination could conceive anything. The general picture was far from pleasant.

Mrs. Nellie P. Tedford, in the Orange County Historical society papers published in 1929, said: "The storekeepers noticed that the cats and dogs and even rats seemed to be hairless around Chinatown; also the sights and smells were loud."

SPEED URGED AS MEASURE INTRODUCED

Copeland Cites 'First Bill Without Pork'; Action Due Soon

Orange county today had its eyes focussed on Washington as Senator Copeland formally reported to the senate today the omnibus flood control bill including a $13,000,000 Orange county project. The bill was approved by the commerce committee Saturday and Senator Copeland, in reporting the $320,000,000 bill, asked that action be expedited.

The bill as brought to the floor contained the requirement that local governments bear the major cost of rights of way and damages. The bill now contains 215 projects. Orange county's share of the cost of its project on this basis would be about $3,500,000.

"Pork-less" Bill

Action on the bill is expected late next week, Senator Copeland said on Sunday. He also stressed the statement that "For the first time in American history we are reporting a flood control bill which has no pork in it."

This remark was taken here as an indication that the Orange county project in the bill was included because its vital necessity has been impressed upon the legislators. Supervisor William D. Smith and George Malone, consulting engineer for Orange county, have been at Washington working on behalf of the local project.

Like Elliott Plan

The Orange county program is virtually the same as the Elliott plan on which the people voted last December. It provides for a dam on the Santa Ana river at Prado and on seven other streams.

At the national rivers and harbors congress in Washington a message from President Roosevelt was read today in which the executive formed flood control "a problem of such vital import to the well being of the nation" that it should be "dealt with on a national basis."

Mr. Roosevelt's message said: "The recent devastating floods have given tragic emphasis to the problem which faces all those agencies dealing with the control and conservation of the nation's water resources."

"I have every hope and expectation that progress toward its solution will be advanced as a result of the forthcoming deliberation of the 31st annual meeting of the national rivers and harbors congress."

At that time the late George Edgar, who used to be a grocer here and was famous for doing things in his own way, got to poking around Chinatown. It was probably about the first time anyone had had the courage to place himself inside one of those shacks.

Mr. Edgar took Dr. Clark, the city physician, with him. They saw plenty.

They saw a case of leprosy. The leper was in a dark, filthy room. He was almost dead.

Austrian Prince Defies Edict; Threatens War

STARHEMBERG BATTLES TO KEEP ARMY

'Repetition of 1934' Is Warning Given Heads Of Government

VIENNA, April 27. (AP)—Austrian government officials, in a succession of conferences, sought a formula today to patch up the nation's internal difficulties, sharpened by the refusal of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg's private army to disband.

The powerful prince and vice chancellor, in a speech vibrant with defiance, delivered a plain warning to his political opponents that his Heimwehr (home guard) would be dissolved "only over my dead body."

If his internal enemies pressed too hard, the young prince declared, there would be a "repetition of 1934," the year of Austria's brief, bloody civil war in which the Heimwehr triumphed.

That was Von Starhemberg's first public declaration since his Heimwehr leaders determined Saturday to keep their armed organization intact, despite opposition from clerical and monarchist quarters.

The issue became clearly defined as a contest between 100 per cent Fascism, as represented by Von Starhemberg, and the clerical element of the country.

Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, who is closely allied to the clerical quarters, took a moderate attitude in attempting to work out a compromise.

Prince Von Starhemberg was cheered by 1200 Heimwehrmen as he "declared war on traitors" in a spirit similar to that of 1934 when his private army smashed Socialism in Vienna and surprised the Hitlerite Nazis.

Declaring false friends surrounded Chancellor Schuschnigg, the prince said: "The chancellor knows the Heimwehr is his best bodyguard and will use its power against persons who mask as his friends but actually are enemies of Austria."

The entire population of this town, only recently host to Emperor Haile Selassie, Crown Prince Asfa Wossen and the Ethiopian imperial army, turned out to cheer the Italian forces at the start of their "big push" to the south.

Crowds of natives, who have made their acts of submission at the new headquarters of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, watched the Italian departure, many of them expressing satisfaction at the general feeling that the war's end was approaching.

Marshal Badoglio himself, commander-in-chief of all the Fascist forces in East Africa, directed this climactic act in the Italian efforts to subdue the last unconquered African kingdom.

MORE ABOUT BONFIRE

Chinese Get Hot Tip That didn't bother Mr. Edgar any. Somehow, the Chinese inmates of the shanties received information that it would be more healthy for them on May 26, 1936, if they were not at home. They acted on this hot tip; but they obeyed instructions to leave their bedding, clothing and such articles in the shanties.

The city marshal came into possession of a lot of kerosene. Not having anything better to do with the kerosene, the marshal allowed it to become spread about Chinatown, "where it would do the most good."

Yes, It Caught Fire

When old, dry wood is soaked with kerosene it is pretty hard to keep it from catching fire. That's what happened in this case. Rumors had spread around town and it happened that there was quite a crowd on hand about that time. When the old shacks began to blaze the volunteer fire department wasn't far away, either. The firemen protected adjoining buildings.

The only damage done by the fire was to Adolph Butts' plumbing shop, where the paint on the structure was blistered $36 worth. Of course the leper was removed before the fire started. He was placed in a hut which was guarded by Red limes. Red still lives over at Orange. He has been connected with the military life of the county for a good many years.

Chinese Profited

The conflagration and the moving were quite a shock to the unfortunate victim of leprosy and he only lived two days. As it turned out, the Chinese were better off than before, as a result of the fire. They were given houses near the river, equipped with new bedding and other articles of domestic life, including stoves.

The Chinatown property belonged to a Mrs. Shaffer, and for a time she is reported to have entertained ideas of suing somebody about the fire. It is understood, however, that the matter was settled out of court.

BID WHILE HOUSE BURNS

SELMA, Ohio. (AP)—Flames burst out of the attic of Howard Holloway's house while an auction sale was under way in the front yard. The crowd formed a bucket brigade, but the fire was out of control. While the house burned to the ground, they returned to the auction.

TWO ACTIONS ECHO CRASH

Two damage actions resulting from the same accident last Sept. 27 in Santa Ana were being heard simultaneously today before Superior Judge James L. Allen.

In the first action Barbara and Grant Allen, proprietors of a Santa Ana restaurant, are suing Frank and John Diero and Charles and Katherine Diero for $6300 for damages sustained when their car collided with that driven by Frank Diero and owned by John and Charles Diero, at the intersection of Flower and Myrtle streets.

In the second action Mary Leonard, a passenger in the Diero car, is suing Mr. and Mrs. Allen for $5200 as a result of injuries sustained in the same accident.

The Santa Ana firm of West and McKinney, through L. A. West, is representing the plaintiff in the first action and the defendant in the second, while Harry Westover is representing the defendant in the first action and the plaintiff in the second.

Charles Diero, named as defendant in the first action, has died since the accident occurred.

WCTU SLATES TALKFEST

Attaining the highest stage of the annual W. C. T. U. oratorical tournament ever achieved in Santa Ana, Willard and Lathrop Junior High school contestants will compete tomorrow evening in the Presbyterian church for the organization's pearl medal.

Beginning at 7:30 p. m., Lathrop Junior High school pupils will complete final rounds of their competition for the gold medal, next in rank to the pearl medal to be awarded to the best temperance speaker among those already holding bronze, silver and gold awards.

The Willard school orchestra, directed by S. A. Mustol, and the Lathrop girls' glee club, under direction of Miss Edith Cornell, will furnish music during the program.

Mrs. Amy Evans, president of the local W. C. T. U., will preside. Contest chairman is Mrs. C. D. Hicks.

Anaheim Woman Attempts Suicide

Mrs. Hadie McDougal, 1601 West Broadway, Anaheim, is in Seaside hospital, Long Beach, today in a serious condition as a result of an asserted self-inflicted bullet wound over her heart.

According to a report on file at the sheriff's office, Mrs. McDougal last Saturday night attempted suicide at her home in Anaheim.

Mrs. McDougal's husband, Chief Petty Officer Harold McDougal, is stationed on the U. S. S. Childs, San Diego. Mrs. McDougal had just received a telegram from her husband, according to the report, and after an argument with her father, Charles Lange, went into a bedroom where she assertedly shot herself. Her husband, who was attending a farewell party in San Diego, was notified and arrived in Long Beach early Sunday morning.

Republicans, Vinson said, have failed to file a bill of particulars. They have chastised the Democrats, he argued, for "cowardice and lack of courage in not bringing in a tax bill to balance the budget, yet they say they favor no tax bill."

Drunk Charges Face 3 Drivers

Orange county police this week-end arrested and charged three men with drunk driving.

Louis Flores, 35, of 1205 West Second street, Santa Ana, was arrested by Santa Ana police at the intersection of Third and Bush streets at 9 p. m. yesterday. Joe Banda, 19, San Juan Capistrano, was booked at the county jail at 6 p. m. yesterday by Constable Jack Combs, San Juan Capistrano. The third asserted drunk driver, Charles Wilbur, 21, of West Fourth street, Santa Ana, was arrested at 3 p. m. Saturday by California Highway Patrolman Floyd Yoder.

DOG POISONER SOUGHT HERE

Santa Ana police, assisted by Poundmaster Harold Pickering, today were attempting to locate a suspect who, during the past 10 days, has poisoned several dogs in the north-west part of the city. According to Mr. Pickering, the dogs have been poisoned with strychnine.

Last week, four residents in the vicinity where the poisoning operations are believed to be in progress, reported their dogs poisoned. Owners of poisoned dogs include Mrs. P. M. Webb, 1030 West Sixth street; Mrs. E. B. Brooks, Mrs. Nye Martin, 1517 1/2 North Ross street, and W. B. Balzer, 1024 West Sixth street.

MORE ABOUT PRISON SITE

Mr. Craig will be one of the main speakers and will outline the prison situation in detail. Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the organization, today announced that a large crowd is expected at the dinner starting at 6:30 p. m. and that those who do not attend the dinner will be welcome to come in at 7:30 p. m. when the program will start.

Another Orange county leader today sent a vigorous written protest to the committee. The following letter was sent by Mrs. Margaret Utt of Tustin, prominent in civic work in this district.

"I object to the location of a state prison in Orange county. Southern California should have one of the state's prisons, as it supplies its share of inmates of those institutions, but the prison should not be in Orange county."

"It should be within a moderate distance of Los Angeles, say within 100 miles, and it should be in a healthful place with a reasonably good supply of irrigation water and with reasonably good soil. But it should be in a place as remote from homes and as remote from general public traffic as possible."

"Orange county is unsurpassed as a place for homes and will become more the mecca of discriminating people as times goes on, if it is given the treatment its natural advantages entitle it to."

"Persons who have broken the laws of our land are not entitled to the best things of life and the best things of life should not be spoiled or marred for their benefit."

"I am opposed to the location of the prison in Orange county."

BURGLAR ROUTED
A burglar, who last Friday night entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Harbert, 305 South Bristol street, Santa Ana, was frightened away from his operations, when Mr. and Mrs. Harbert heard noises in the bedroom and investigated. A bracelet that had been in one of the drawers was later found in the backyard.

around here and confused and scared little judges and policemen."

The constitution provides that while they are attending congress, going to a session or returning from one, legislators are immune from arrest except for "treason, felony and breach of the peace."

However, Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho) contended some time ago that arrests for this provision was intended only to prevent arrests for debt, and that all other possible offenses are covered by the exceptions.

BUS CO. SUED FOR $10,616

Damages to the amount of $10,616.82 are asked in the suit of James E. Morelock, 18, of Anaheim, against the Motor Transit company and C. J. Kendall, driver, which opened today before a jury in Superior Judge Homer G. Ames' court.

In his complaint Mr. Morelock claims that on June 30, 1935, in the intersection of Broadway and Lemon streets, Anaheim, he overturned his light car in an effort to avoid hitting a Motor Transit bus. He suffered three fractured vertebrae, a brain concussion and other injuries, and claims that the bus failed to make a stop at the boulevard, being directly responsible for the injuries.

Dr. D. A. Harwood, Santa Ana, was appointed by Judge Ames this morning to make an examination of the plaintiff to determine the extent and nature of assertedly permanent injuries sustained.

Members of the jury hearing the case are Helen C. Hudson, M. E. Martin, H. A. Robinson, Mrs. Jennie L. Fuller, E. S. Sullivan, Marjorie Couden, J. D. McMahan, J. W. Hatherly, Cornish Roehm, Edna Dow, Minnie L. Collins and Inez Lehman.

MORALS TRIAL IS SLATED

Preliminary hearing of Frank Barrows, 61-year-old Placentia music teacher, charged with having committed sexual crimes against young boys, was scheduled to open at 2 o'clock this afternoon before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison.

Barrows is the second of three Orange county men arrested during the past several days on similar charges. Alvin Koenig, former Boy Scout field commissioner here, is being returned from New Jersey to face trial on the same count.

William John Sutherland, Orange High school teacher implicated in the vice ring by boys' testimony, Saturday was sentenced by Superior Judge James L. Allen to a term of from one to 15 years in San Quentin penitentiary. Sutherland readily confessed his guilt. It was not known today how Barrows would plead.

FLOYD TREZISE EXONERATED

Floyd Trezise, 21, Fullerton, driver of the car which last Wednesday night struck a bicycle ridden by Solomon E. Farmer, Jr., 10, Fullerton, resulting in the boy's death, was exonerated of all blame in the accident at a coroner's inquest held at the McQuay and Suter mortuary in Fullerton today. The coroner's jury held that death was accidental.

Young Farmer was fatally injured Wednesday night while riding his bicycle near the intersection of Orangeflower avenue and Brookhurst road, two miles west of Fullerton. The boy died soon after his arrival at Orange county hospital.

Karpis Charged With Big Robbery

CLEVELAND, April 27. (AP)—Assistant U. S. District Attorney Frank Weideman swore out affidavits today charging Alvin Karpis, national public enemy No. 1, his pal, Harry Campbell, and three others with the $46,000 Garrettsville, Ohio, train robbery.

The affidavits will form the basis of warrants containing the specific charge of robbing the mails, he said.

"Karpis directed and led the robbery," said the attorney. "Campbell and the others took part."

EXPLORE FOR ORE AT HIGHEST LAKE

CAMBRIDGE, England, April 27. (AP)—Lake Titicaca in South America, in which, legend says, was dumped $250,000,000 of Inca treasure to save it from Spanish invaders, is to be the object of a British scientific expedition next year.

Search for mineral deposits, and not treasure hunting, will be the purpose, however, of the British scientists.

They also will seek ways and means of bringing a measure of prosperity to what is considered one of the poorest areas in the world.

Lake Titicaca, said to be the highest lake in the world, and one of the largest, lies partly in Peru and partly in northern Bolivia, probably was formed by a shift in the formation of the Andes and feeds into an immense area of desolate marsh land.

DAD-SON BANQUET HELD AT CHURCH
Eighty fathers and sons were toasted Friday evening at annual banquet for them at the Orange avenue Christian church, by members of the women's council. Charles Morgan presided as toastmaster.

Betty's Coming

BETTY GRABLE

Miss Betty Grable, 18-year-old motion picture actress, who is engaged to marry Jackie Coogan of screen fame, will accompany the RKO studio's softball team to Santa Ana for its game with George Lackaye's National league Varsity at the Municipal bowl tomorrow night, it was announced today.

MUSIC RECITAL HEARD HERE

Pupils of St. Joseph's school gave their annual spring music recital Saturday in the school auditorium. Instrumental and vocal numbers were presented by kindergarten and more advanced pupils.

Those participating were Beverly Harrison, Bernadine Curran, Marie Therese Myers, Letitia Talon, Joan Huelskamp, Mary Osterkamp, Patricia Moreland, Mary Ann Sandon, Catherine Telef, Mary Jo Devenney, Margaret A. Schneiderberg, Rose Marie Merie, Elinor Kilkenny, Audrey Haldeman, Mary Pat Murphy, Doris Jean Sullivan, Dorothy Osterkamp, Jacqueline Sekeris, Louise Buschard, Goldie ae Sekeris, Joan Huelskamp, Louise Taylor, Betty Jean Vardy, Anita Borchard, Barbara Lee Markel, Roland Bigonger, Azilda Charbonneau, Robert Weigand, Edward Hughes, Jack Brady, Ruth Mary Sueco, Mary Ellen Flanagan, June Rae Carter, Mary Jane Treftzger, Genevieve Vardy, Jeanie Rhines, Constance Duffy, Charles Borchard and tiny tots of the school.

TELL TRANSIENT MOVEMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Because hills look far greener far away, nearly 1,000,000 persons have taken the open road since 1929.

This was reported by Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, and he indicated that most of the wanderers have learned that their vision of a better life in distant parts is only a mirage. A majority of them did not improve their economic status by migrating, he said.

Hopkins published a study of destitute wanderers aided under the FERA and WPA, with the comment that "only as this transient population, which arose out of the depression, is given work can it be re-absorbed into the more stable population of the country."

The daily average number of persons housed and fed at transient camps and overnight shelters between May, 1934, and April, 1935, was 350,000, including 50,000 family groups averaging three persons each.

Movie Stunt Man Hurt in Crash

HOLLYWOOD, April 27. (AP)—Robert J. Ward Jr., 32, automobile stunt man, was treated at the police receiving hospital today for injuries he received when his automobile hit a signal post at Sunset boulevard and Chahuenga avenue.

Police said Ward, who has for years risked his life in spectacular stunt tests of automobiles, recently underwent a surgical operation. Witnesses declared that Ward apparently fainted at the wheel before the crash.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

UNDER a heading "Fish Law Smelly," Uncle Sam Meyer, down at Newport, hints in his newspaper that perhaps things aren't all they seem to be in the county fish preserve and its recent demise at the hands of the appellate court.

Take the collar from a dog and you still have a canine of sorts, Sam claims, but remove an insignificant number from a fish reserve on a map and you have trouble. And no fish preserve.

Here's Sam's outburst about the "dirty work":

"Outsting of the fish reserve along the county coast by the higher court because the bill failed to have a number, smells a bit fishy. Harry Welch says it's the same idea of a dog without a collar not being a dog; one of the time the bill was in committee an attorney raised the question of a lack of a number but was assured that it did not matter. Now it seems to matter a great deal and the thought creases one's brow of dirty work inshore and off."

Hurrah for Stephen A. Reyes at El Modena!

Somewhere else on this page you'll read a story about a garden contest starting at once in El Modena, the purpose of which is to encourage Mexican folk in that community to take interest in their yards.

Combining beauty with utility, Mr. Reyes has ruled that either vegetables or flowers can be grown. We agree with him there—a nice patch of carrots, or perhaps rutabagas, looks just as beautiful as a patch of lilies. And one can't eat the lilies!

Prizes will be for the most variety of plants including vegetables, we presume; one will be for the greatest originality and one for the neatest yard.

We expect to see El Modena blooming from front to back—or more correctly, from top to bottom—within the next few weeks!

Something for Police Sergeant John Gregory, Fullerton, to worry about: Reports from Garden Grove that pheasants are becoming more plentiful there each year. Perhaps that's where the birds planted in the Fullerton area are going.

James Smith, Garden Grove, discovered a hen pheasant the other day, when he was cutting hay or raking weeds, or something. The mama bird was setting.

Fifteen eggs.

So Mr. Smith collected the eggs and took 'em to a neighbor, who had a maternally-inclined hen—brooder, we didn't hear which. And soon there should be 15 pleasant little pheasants running around Garden Grove.

From Placentia comes a story of the lost and found wedding ring.

Seems that H. M. Wichers lost a wedding ring 20 years ago in his walnut grove on Madison avenue. Since that time hundreds of walnut pickers have covered the ground, and haven't found any trace of the missing token.

And then four years ago the walnut trees were torn up and oranges planted instead. Still no trace of the missing ring. Then, on Good Friday, Loren Stock, Wichers' grandson, found the missing article, undamaged and as bright as new.

At least, that's the story.

Several times lately we've asked what became of Harry Welch's horseshoe pitching contest.

Remember?—He started a tournament between mayors of the county, with a few spare councilmen and supervisors thrown in.

Well, Harry apparently read The Journal, because he told us all about the tourney and how plans will be made at the next League of Municipalities meeting for completion of the hair-raising fete.

One supervisor, N. E. West, still remains in the running. He's to play E. M. Chapman, from Orange. In the other bracket for the first playoff, Mayor Charlie Young, Placentia, is to lock horns with Mayor Fred Rowland, Santa Ana, and Irvin George Gordon, Newport, will pitch against Councilman Joe Smith, Santa Ana. Not bad pitchers, these Santa Anans, what?

In the other bracket Mayor Elmer Hughes, the Seal Beach biscuit fiend, will meet the winner of the Fred Schwendeman-Tom Talbert match. We're looking for Mayor Elmer to win his battle and then tangle with Tom in a thrilling final that both use the same brand of chewin' tobacco, which is said to be a great help in heaving horseshoes.

Our recommendation is for everyone to watch for the finals in the Newport contest. It's going to be fun!

Note to Jim Farquhar, Huntington Beach publisher: That column you re-printed in your paper. That was written by Stanley Wilson, junior college scribe, on the day that the J. C. students were in charge of the paper. But I'm ready to second all nice things he said!

COMPLETE P. E. NEGOTIATIONS FOR IMPERIAL HIGHWAY

START WORK SOON ON ROAD

Supervisor Lyon Tells of Plans for New Route to Yorba Linda

LA HABRA.—Settlement of a three-year argument with Pacific Electric officials and plans for start of work on a stretch of Imperial Highway, between Carolina avenue and Yorba Linda, within a short time were announced at a meeting of the Imperial Highway association by Supervisor LeRoy Lyon here Saturday evening.

Completion of negotiations will allow start of the work, for which money has already been appropriated by the state. Rights of way along the railroad's tracks had held up the work to this time. Mr. Lyon pointed out, in explaining plans for the highway, which will join Cedar avenue in Brea and connect directly with Yorba Linda.

A bridge is now planned, crossing the Santa Ana river and joining the new highway with the Santa Ana canyon road at the west end of the recently completed Sulphur slide cutoff on the canyon road.

Progress on a 2.6-mile stretch of the highway between Leutwiler avenue and La Mirada road, part of which is in Orange county, was reported by Charles Reynolds, official of the contracting company. He told members that $332,995 is being spent on the project and as high as 500 men employed on the project.

In connection with this stretch, Supervisor Lyon said that plans are being considered to open a north-and-south road between the La Habra business section and the new road, with possibility of extending that highway through the hills to La Mirada road, part of which is in Orange county, was reported by Charles Reynolds, official of the contracting company. He told members that $332,995 is being spent on the project and as high as 500 men employed on the project.

Reports of progress on Imperial highway from El Segundo to El Centro were given by president George Cromwell, Boy Havas, El Centro; Leonard Schwabacher, Jr., Hemet, and Secretary George Kellogg, Yorba Linda.

Mayor Woolsey, La Habra, welcomed guests to the meeting, and response was made by Mrs. A. C. Pickering, Yorba Linda. Plans were made for the next meeting of the association, which will be held at Corona, May 22. Members of the La Habra American Legion auxiliary prepared the dinner, which was served in the Legion hall.

Grandparents Feted at Church

ORANGE.—A church program in recognition of grandparents was given at the Sunday morning service of the Methodist church, with special music arranged by Mrs. George S. Harper, and directed a chorus composed entirely of grandparents. Grandchildren served as ushers.

The Rev. Arthur T. Hobson presented a token of appreciation to the oldest grandmother present, Mrs. Elizabeth Pyle, 91; to the oldest grandfather, E. B. Wood, 89; and to the youngest child with four grandparents living, little Donna Robinson, 7 months old.

For the best note books in the junior department, Carol Robinson and Billy Bruns were winners; for the best Bible stories, Roberta Parks and Jimmie Ivens won. In the intermediate department, Betty Hartwick and George Wagoner won prizes for stories. A prize was also given for having the largest family present at the service last Sunday evening.

The Sunday evening service featured a Mexican orchestra and a play in charge of the Rev. A. B. Escabosa, pastor of the El Modena Methodist Mexican church. Esthewen Reyes and Armando Troncoso spoke.

Circle to Meet At Dana Point

DANA POINT.—Dana Point Circle members will hold their regular meeting here next Wednesday, it has been announced. Regular business will be transacted, after which a social hour will be held.

Newport Firemen 'Feed Fishes' As Part of Job

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Members of the Newport Beach fire department spent Sunday feeding the fishes.

It all came about when several hundred dead squid were washed along the shores here yesterday because of some mysterious happening deep in the ocean. Under the direction of Fire Chief F. W. Crocker, the firemen drove a huge fire truck with large tires onto the sand and loaded the squid, weighing from two to eight pounds each, into garbage cans and hauled them to the bay where they were loaded on a boat and taken far out to sea and dumped.

An early rush of fish to these waters is expected now by firemen and other fishermen. The fish will come to feast on the squid, it is explained.

Lions Attack Robot 'Daniel'

The picture proves that this robot won't qualify for a job as trainer of "outlaw" lions at El Monte, Calif., Hot farm. It shows the result of a trial workout as the robot ordered the lions to "lie down." Within a few minutes, the big cats disarmed the mechanical man of his club, bit through the power line supplying his motors and then proceeded to try to demolish him completely. Harry, the Champ

A Real Robber

Here is one for you wrestling addicts to comb out of your week-end whiskers:

Who do you think is the new so-called world's wrestling champion? Wrong, it is not Ali Baba, as announced widely in the press last week.

It is, hold your seats, none other than that old-show opener, comedy providing Harry Ekezi, who has gone through his alleged paces a number of times at the highway 101 arena.

Yep, Harry, the mad-cap and joker is new champ.

He calls himself Ali Baba, and very fittingly, too, after the way he and Dick Shikat Irishman, the title from that good Irishman, Danno O'Mahony.

Shikat, you remember, upset the "dope" and robbed Mahony of his title in an upset that wasn't included in the price of admission. Shikat held it a month or so and then tossed it in Ali Baba's lap.

Which, of course, might be just a swell plot on the part of Lou Daro, et al., to shove their Vincent Lopez into the title spo. all by himself. Lopez can lick Ekezi with any foot.

Harry spent all his time during his local performances jumping out of the ring and making large and funny faces. Very little time wasted in wrestling. Billy Grubbs and others of his ability licked him easily.

Things even got so bad for Harry that he had to go into the movies, playing a Mack Sennet role in a slapstick comedy.

And today he wears the mantle of champion—proving that America is not only the land of opportunity, but the land of high-class humors.

However, out of all evil, some good must arise and if Vincent Lopez becomes the sole claimant to the world's raising title—which he undoubtedly will now—at least the turmoil will have subsided in this willy-nilly game and we sports writers will have a lot less trouble keeping track of wrestling champions.

Notes from the lying Scotsman, Jr.:

Starting May 16, and we're not kidding you this time, the live bait boat Valencia is going to start operating from the end of the Newport pier at five ante meridiem, with other boats at seven and eight. They tried to start it this way about a month ago, but the weather being a little cool the fishermen didn't like to get up that early in the morning. Catching bass, halibut, and barracuda. No yellowtail.

If fishermen want to win some nice prizes this year, try the live bait boats. Starting May 1, a tackle box is given away every day for the largest fish caught on the live bait boats. On top of this, for the largest fish caught each month a complete outfit is given away. How's that for some prize?

Fishermen in the bay have been catching a few big spotfin crocker, but they are also few and far between. Although one man is credited with around five averaging from nine to 12½ pounds each. Caught them near the Bay Shore Camp where the state highway crosses the upper arm of the bay.

BLAKEMORE AND LOWE VICTORS

Robert Blakemore and Hugh Lowe Jr., Santa Ana High school tennis sharks, were sporting a banner and individual trophies today as a reward for their winning the doubles championship at the annual Ojai Invitational Saturday.

They competed in the "under 15 years of age" division.

Kenneth Ranney and Fred Wiemer of the Santa Ana Tennis club, competing in the Riverside invitational, were eliminated in semifinals Sunday by Carl Busch and Vern Hughes of Long Beach.

LOTTERY LETTERS BANNED

HONOLULU (AP)—Postal authorities have advised thousands of Honolulu residents to turn over certain letters to the U. S. customs service without bothering to read them. They contain Philippine lottery literature, officials say, and are subject to confiscation.

WHO SAYS BREVITY TO WIN?

Des Moines 'Seer' Doesn't

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 27. (AP)—The Brevity money around Des Moines started hunting a hedge today, for Mrs. Marvin Johnston, who claimed she picked 14 Kentucky Derby winners in the last 15 years, disclosed she liked Coldstream to come home like Saturday.

"In fact," she said, "I like him very much, but Grand Slam may have an outside chance if the track is very muddy."

Mrs. Johnston, Kentucky born and Louisville reared, said it wasn't just a hunch. "I've seen him run," she explained. "That

Dons Annex Third in All-Conference Track Meet

BENGALS WIN TITLE WITH 58 POINTS

Jimmy Noe Injures Leg In Vaulting; Seven Records Are Set

Santa Ana will "share the wealth" when medals are presented during the all-Southern California Junior college track and field finals at Pomona college, Claremont, May 9.

Earning a comfortable third place with 40 points, A. J. (Bill) Cook's Dons gained more than their share of glory out of the Eastern conference extravaganza won by Riverside's all-powerful Bengals on their own cinders Saturday afternoon.

Fullerton Second

Sprinter Vernon Koepsel's untimely absence (he was advised not to run because of effects from influenza) prevented Santa Ana from "stealing" second place from a Fullerton aggregation that had concentrated class in Capt. Erwin Miller, quarter-mile, and Tom Berkley, elongated Negro sensation who was honored with the individual trophy with 14 points.

Glendale Junior college won the Western division crown with a fractional victory over Los Angeles, 72 39-70 points to 72 2-7, at Hoover High, Glendale, Saturday. Santa Monica scored 60 10-17, Long Beach, 8 1-5 and Ventura 6 1-5.

How the seven junior colleges scored: Riverside, 58½; Fullerton, 47; Santa Ana, 40; San Bernardino, 27; Citrus, 21½; Chaffey, 19½; and Pomona, 11.

Seven records—a record within themselves—tumbled during the annual feature.

Noe Takes First

Jimmy Noe, little fellow who has attained 12 feet in practice, brought Santa Ana its only first place in the pole vault at 12.6. After winning at this height, Noe had the cross-bar raised past McPhie's all-time standard of 12.9, and easily cleared 13 feet but his body hit the bar as he came down, and he landed with a jolt, painfully injuring his right leg. He probably will be ready for the Southland finals a week from Saturday, however.

Fullerton's great Miller negotiated the quarter-mile in 48.7 secs., the powerful-legged star shaving nearly a full second off the 49.5 record held by Carter of Citrus.

Other record-breaking performances were Randolph Carter's 9.7 century and Stewart Sinclair's 4:31.2 mile for Riverside, Bill Smith's 10:03 two-mile for San Bernardino, Paul Moore's 2:06.3 half-mile and Berkley's 6:11½ effort in the high jump for Fullerton, and Earl Vickery's sensational 23.7 secs. in the 220-yard low hurdles for Chaffey.

The Dons scored 21 points on the track and 19 in field. Frankie Boyd, Bill Greschner and Bob Reiff earned six points in each hurdle race by finishing third, fourth and fifth. Greschner tossed the 16-pound shot 41 ft. ½ in. for a second, and Art Craft and Wilburn Anderson placed next to him to give Santa Ana nine points in this one event.

At Parr, Don broadjumped, almost won with a 22-foot leap, but he was out of the race by finishing third, fourth and fifth. Greschner tossed the 16-pound shot 41 ft. ½ in. for a second, and Art Craft and Wilburn Anderson placed next to him to give Santa Ana nine points in this one event.

GIANTS NOW INTACT

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The Giants, starting their first western trip of the National league season, finally have their "real team" intact. Joe Moore, Hank Leiber and Mel Ott in the outfield and Manager Bill Terry, Burgess Whitehead, Dick Bartell and Travis Jackson are considered the team's regulars, but so far they have played together only three innings.

ALLEN WORKS INSTEAD OF FIGHTING

By ANDY CLARKE Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve O'Neill, pilot of the Cleveland Indians, seems to have diverted Johnny Allen's battling spirit into useful channels.

Allen was traded by the Yankees allegedly for his recalcitrant attitude. They were satisfied with his pitching but his bent for being embroiled with umpires, managers or anybody else who happened to be in a combative mood was at least partly responsible for the New York team putting him on the market.

Allen, under the guidance of O'Neill, seems to be concentrating his energies on winning ball games this year, however. Yesterday he turned in a fine all-around performance as the Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns 8-7 in a 16-inning marathon, the longest game thus far in the season.

Dizzy Wins

The game was the highlight of a day's play which saw Dizzy Dean hold the Pirates to six hits as the Cards won 3-2 and Lou Gehrig and Jimmie Fox, the can-do men of the American league, both boom out homers as the Yankees beat the Red Sox 12-9 in a slugfest.

Allen allowed the Browns only two hits in the last 8½ innings but the stunt that labeled him a fighter was his driving slide into Catcher Rollie Hemley to score the winning run in the last of the 16th.

The Dizzy one was given plenty of competition in a 10-inning hurling duel by Bill Swift of the Pirates. Dizzy retired the Bucs in order in their half of the 10th and then Frankie Frisch's double and Pepper Martin's single brought home the bacon.

A total of 33 hits were made as the Yanks downed the Red Sox here 12-9 at Fenway park, the Yanks getting 15 off the deliveries of four Red Sox fingers. Boston took a six-run lead in the first inning but the Yanks came back to score seven in the next frame. Frank Crosetti of the Yanks got five bingles.

Battle of Errors

The Boston game was much like the fracas at Philadelphia, where Brooklyn defeated the Phillies 10-7 in a battle of 26 hits which were interspersed with 11 errors.

Vic Sorrell of the Detroit Tigers turned in a sparkling pitching performance as his team downed the White Sox 6-4. He held the Sox to five hits as the Tigers, really gaining momentum this season, moved along, notched their fourth straight triumph. Sorrell held the opposition hitless for six frames.

Tex Carleton of the Cubs topped Sorrell's performance by holding the bustling Cincinnati Reds to four blows and shutting them out 5-0. Lee Stine held the Cubs to eight safe blows but his mates made three errors behind him.

Buck Newsom of the Senators held the Athletics to seven hits while his mates banged out 13 to beat the Men of Mack 11-3. It was Newsom's third victory of the year.

Wet grounds caused postponement of the Giants-Bees game.

Beach Beaten In President's Golf Tourney

J. W. Beach, holder of the 1935 championship, was not listed among the field of 32 golfers still in the running today for the 1936 President's Cup at the Santa Ana Country club.

Mr. Beach fell in the second round to J. R. Huber, 2 and 1, but his 1935 runner-up, H. A. (Mickey) Walker, survived with victory over Dr. E. Olewiler, 2 and 1. He next faces Don Harwood, who trimmed Ed Holmes, 1 up, last week.

Saturday's sweepstakes: W. K. Hillyard and Hugh Shields, 7-6-67; W. C. Fletcher and Dean Campbell, 7-7-68; R. E. Gray and Earl Wilson, 7-7-68.

Sunday's sweepstakes: Don Kennedy, 5 up; A. W. Robinson, 1 up; and Elmer Curry, 1 up.

Results and pairings in the President's Cup and defeated flights follow:

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 27. (AP)—The Mason-Dixon tennis court rested today on Bryan (Bilby) Grant, the mile from Atlanta who once more assumed his "giant-killing" role by taking a long and erratic march from Don Budge.

LeMon Rematched With Glass Here Friday

Immediately following his defeat Friday night at the hands of Lupe LeMon, Hugh Glass, James J. Jeffries' heavyweight protege, set up such a howl that he was "robbed" the promoter Sampson immediately rematched the pair for Friday night's feature fight.

Although many experts strung with the referee, the decision was widely disputed, with many fans contending Glass had carried the call.

The fight itself was a bruising affair, and ringsiders claimed LeMon was hit harder than ever before in his ring career. Once Glass almost dropped the Fullerton cavenham with a sizzling right to the chin.

Conspicuous among the surprises furnished by outdoor competition so far are these three performances:

1. Brilliant decathlon triumph by Glenn Morris, Fort Collins (Colo.) auto salesman who bettered the existing Olympic standard at the Kansas relays;

2. New national record of 9:10.6 for two miles by Don Lash of Indiana, bettering outdoor mark of 9:13.2 set by Norman Bright at New York last summer; and

3. A new citizens' record of 222.65 feet in the javelin by Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons College, Tex., at the Drake relays.

Eye New Fields

All three achievements forecast a strengthening of Uncle Sam's chances of scoring, at least, in Olympic events which have heretofore held forth scant prospects for the U. S. A. Lash now looms as a great running mate for the coast star, Bright, in the 5000 meters, which the Finns have monopolized.

Week-end returns also produced reassuring evidence in behalf of two of our prospective Olympic aces, Glenn Cunningham and Jesse Owens. At Des Moines, Cunningham stepped off 1000 yards in the new American record time of 2:11.2. Owens, under wraps at the Penn relays, breezed to a new carnival mark of 10.5 seconds for 100 meters and was satisfied to win the broad jump with a 23-foot leap.

Cinderpath Notes

Charley Beathorn, Ohio State star whose heroic 1:52.5 half-mile at the Penn relays indicates he should be a "cinch" to make the Olympic 800, is planning instead to try for the team as a 400 meters hurdler. . . . Ray Ellinwood's 48.5 quarter-mile for a new Drake carnival record marks the Chicago sophomore as a sure shot running mate for Syracuse Eddie O'Brien in the Olympic 400. . . . Jack Lovelock, new Zealand's grand miler and favorite for this year's Olympic 1500, tells Princeton friends he will bid for the 5000 meters title in the 1940 games.

Southern California's pole vaulters have the situation well in hand, with a trio doing better than 14 feet, 3 inches this spring. . . . Observers rate this year's Trojan squad, coached by Dean Cromwell, as the greatest college track team ever assembled. . . . Good enough, some coaches say, to win the Olympics all by themselves.

Things reach a new low level for me today. I think I rush through work and run to the beach, where even the fish cannot be more unfriendly to me than those dogs at Bay Meadows are.

As you perhaps guess from the tone of my yammering at this point, I do not win any money at all on Saturday's races. In fact, I may as well tell the cold truth. All my horses run out again, this making the third day in a string that this happens.

As you can judge from the box score above, I am still ahead of the game, but it is no fun picking 'em if you don't get one in the money, and pretty soon I will be working on my reserve fund. However, Riskitt is just as bad as I am; in fact he is far in the hole. He bets too many horses. No races today. I go fishing and think up a new system.

West's Cinder Hopes Bright For Olympics

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 27.—America's track and field experts were a bit conservative earlier this year in forecasting a thin majority for the west in the makeup of the 1936 Olympic team. On the basis of the first spring tests, topped off Saturday by the Drake and Penn relay carnivals, it now looks like a landslide for the athletic products of the midwest, southwest and far west.

Conspicuous among the surprises furnished by outdoor competition so far are these three performances:

1. Brilliant decathlon triumph by Glenn Morris, Fort Collins (Colo.) auto salesman who bettered the existing Olympic standard at the Kansas relays;

MRS. HOUDINI PLANS HUGE SEANCE

Final Effort Will Be Made to Get Message From Dead Mate

HOLLYWOOD, April 27 (AP).—Mrs. Harry Houdini has announced plans for a "last supreme effort" to establish contact with the spirit of her deceased husband, the famous magician who died nearly 10 years ago.

She revealed a compact which she said she entered with Houdini, Charles Carter and Howard Thurston, whereby the first three who died would make "one final attempt" to contact the survivor. She will prepare for this effort, she said, by arranging a public seance in which hundreds or perhaps thousands will join. If possible, a national radio broadcast will be arranged so that other thousands may unite their psychic forces in the attempt to receive the message from "the other side."

Contacts Tried
"This year marks the tenth anniversary of Houdini's death," the magician's widow said. "I have tried in most every way to contact Houdini in the Great Beyond and so far have not been successful."

"It was agreed between these three great magicians and myself that the first three passing on would make one final attempt to contact the survivor. It so happens to be my faithful and final duty to carry out to its conclusion this agreement."

"Now that Houdini, Carter and Thurston have joined forces on the other side of the grave, I am going to make, here in Hollywood, the one supreme effort to contact these great magicians and maybe together one of them may come through."

To Be Last Attempt
"This will positively be my last attempt, and as far as I am concerned I will abide by the results. I will make this a public seance held on a mountaintop, as near the heavens as possible, with as many interested people forming the circle or seance as possible."

"I also hope at that time to make the seance a coast-to-coast broadcast, with every radio the center of a psychic circle. This will lend the strength and aid of thousands silently listening in. It will be a seance to end all seances as far as I am concerned."

FEATURES OVER KVOE TUESDAY

"Christian Citizenship" will be the theme of tomorrow morning's "Clinic of Christian Living" broadcast by the Rev. Joseph H. Thompson at 9:15 o'clock to be based upon the scriptural selection, "One Thing Thou Lackest." Hymns, to be sung in response to requests, will include "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "His Eye Is on the Sparrow." The voices heard on these undenominational programs every Tuesday and Friday at the same hour are attracting wide recognition.

Beula Lippold, stylist, historian and commentator, will be heard in her second "Journalettes" broadcast from KVOE tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Her featured topic will be the great influence of China on 20th Century America, concerning the origin of customs and commodities which we think of as being of our own making, but actually originated in China 5000 years ago.

The part radio plays in international understanding will be discussed in tomorrow's morning's "You and Your Radio" broadcast at 11:30, to include some surprising facts.

KVOE OFFERS VARIETY OF PROGRAMS

KVOE's program schedule for tonight is replete with a variety of excellent entertainment and educational features.

At 5:30 o'clock, Ralph C. Smedley, instructor in chairmanship in the adult education department, Santa Ana city schools, returns to continue his series of "Youth Problem" discussions scheduled every Monday at that hour. His topic this evening is "Getting a Job." Mr. Smedley was absent last Monday due to a slight cold.

Popular hits of the day in dance rhythm will be offered from 5:45 until 6:30 when the evening news broadcast, with the compliments of the Santa Ana Journal, will be made, followed by the stolen cars broadcast.

At 6:45 the T. S. Hunter "Acme" feature program of popular music will be presented and at 7 o'clock the program that many listeners eagerly anticipate, "Musical Moments" with Rubino and his violin, his 32-piece orchestra and Virginia Rea as guest soloist. A medley of "Thanks a Million" tunes and "Breakin' in a Pair of Shoes" will comprise the orchestral offerings, while Rubino's featured violin number has been designated as "The Touch of Your Lips." The waltz-songs, "A Heart That's Free," will be sung by Virginia Rea.

An interesting discussion of the structure of the human foot and the importance of its care will be included in the "Rhythm of Healthy Feet" presentation, to feature the music of Guy Lombardo's latest numbers, "Lost" and "No Greater Love," beginning at 7:15.

L. A. DEMOCRATS DEMAND OLD AGE PENSION, NEW TAX SYSTEM

PROGRESSIVES WILL FIGHT M'ADOO

Los Angeles Group Is Formed to Oppose U. S. Senator

LOS ANGELES, April 27. (AP)—"Progressive Democrats" of California were on record today with a demand for old age pensions and for "a system of taxation based on ability to pay."

The pension demand, embodied in a set of "articles of principles" adopted at a week-end conference here, did not specify the amount sought, but called for "pensions for the aged, disabled and widowed sufficient to maintain an adequate standard of living."

Further organization of the self-termed progressives, convoked by leaders of a movement to unite Democratic party factions opposed to the leadership of Senator William G. McAdoo, is to be sought at a meeting in San Francisco May 16, after the state primary election.

McAdoo's name did not arise in the discussions on the conference floor, nor was any proposal made to take sides in the May 5 primary, when three factional slates of delegates to the Democratic national convention will be voted upon.

Senator McAdoo's name appears on the slate selected by President Roosevelt, another is a so-called "Epic" slate, and the third is the "Townsend plan" list. The name of State Senator Culbert L. Olson, one of the sponsors of the "progressive Democratic" conference, is on the "Epic" slate. He withdrew from the Roosevelt-selected list in protest over its inclusion of McAdoo.

Other planks of the "principles" adopted by the conference are: "Release from unnecessary tax burdens by enabling unemployed to support themselves."

"Regulation of marketing of farm products in the interest of farmers and consumers."

"Guaranteeing and defending the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively."

"Development by the state of state owned natural resources."

"Public ownership of public utilities."

"A single house legislature."

"A free educational system generously maintained with the right to seek and teach truth."

"Tax exemption of at least $1000 on farms and homes occupied by the owners."

"Retaining to the federal government the sole power to issue currency and further extension of government control of banks."

An invitation was extended to "progressive and liberal organizations, by whatever name, to join forces with us without losing their present identities."

Taking a snapshot of a picturesque two-burro cart which has long been a familiar sight on California highways cost the life of Dr. Jasper Gattuccio (upper right), 31-year-old San Jose dentist and amateur photographer. He stopped his car to take a picture of Peter Voiss (upper left), aged eccentric, and the team (below). When he started up again, Voiss drew a shotgun and fatally wounded Dr. Gattuccio with a charge fired through the rear window of his machine. Voiss was held on a murder charge. ++ County Landmarks ++ Black Star Coal Mine, Now Forgotten Once Flourished in Indian Canyon

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. These articles will describe their location and give historical facts concerning them. Today's article tells about Black Star coal mine that once flourished in Indian canyon.—Editor.)

The Black Star coal mine, like the silver mines of Silverado canyon, has been virtually forgotten. Although it never was surrounded by anything like a town, it seemed headed at one time for a considerable development.

The mine was located in what was known in the early days as Canon de los Inyos, or Indian canyon. The spot is about 16 miles east of Anaheim and about the same distance from Santa Ana.

In 1877 the vein was discovered by August Witte. In the following December the Black Star Coal Mining company was incorporated. The concern purchased 168 acres of land from James Irvine, the owner.

By 1880 three main tunnels had been run, aggregating some 900 feet, in addition to numerous side drifts. The company erected buildings for the superintendent's residence and a boarding house for the miners. Tramways, coal bunkers and other equipment were installed.

In 1880 two veins of coal had been uncovered. The coal was of a hard, brittle quality. The mine was not being worked in 1880, according to a history published at that time.

The president of the company was B. F. Seibert of Anaheim.

NINE INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRACK-UPS

Two Soldiers From Fort McArthur Hurt in Motorcycle Crash

Four accidents on Orange county highways this week-end resulted in injury to nine persons, according to county police department records.

A head-on collision between cars driven by John J. Smith, 23, Costa Mesa, and Ramon P. Lopez, 36, Delhi, at 8 a. m. yesterday, resulted in injury to both drivers and to Freddie DeSoto, 10, Delhi, and Ralph Cruz, 10, Los Angeles. The accident occurred in the 2500 block on South Main street, Santa Ana. The injured were taken to Orange county hospital for medical attention and released later in the day.

Sergt. Harry B. Yaw, Fort McArthur, and Private Gordon L. Adams, Fort McArthur, were seriously injured at 3 p. m. yesterday, when their motorcycle was crowded off the bridge on the coast highway a short distance south of Huntington Beach. Private Adams was riding in the side car. The injured soldiers were taken to the Fort McArthur hospital, where it was reported Sergeant Yaw's condition is serious.

R. A. McIntyre, 20, Long Beach, and Paul Gerard, 23, Long Beach, were injured at 11:45 p. m. Saturday, when Mr. McIntyre's car crashed into the guard rail on the bridge on the coast highway just south of Huntington Beach. No details of the accident were available.

Ramon Perez, 25, Santa Paula, was injured at 7:20 p. m. yesterday, when his car collided with another car driven by John A. Newcomer, 43, 1115 Bush street, Santa Ana. The accident occurred on Whittier boulevard when Perez assertedly attempted to pass another car and sideswiped Mr. Newcomer's car.

L. W. Lewman and his 15-year-old son, Percy Lewman, 147 East Main street, Fullerton, were admitted to the Orange county hospital yesterday following an automobile accident near Pomona. Authorities at the hospital said they were not informed concerning details of the accident.

Zioncheck In More Difficulty

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Representative Zioncheck (D., Wash.), lost another round today in his differences with capital police and courts.

The United States court of appeals denied a writ of error filed in his conviction on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct growing out of his New Year's morning bell ringing activities. He was accused of taking over a switchboard in a local apartment house and arousing occupants in the early morning hours by ringing their telephones. Last week he was convicted of contempt of court and speeding 70 miles an hour. He paid fines totaling $45.

Dillinger's 'Lure' Is Reported

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 27. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Sage, the woman in red who lured John Dillinger into his death trap, was taken aboard a coast guard cutter to Ellis Island for deportation today.

She was one of 81 deportees who arrived in Jersey City aboard a special train this morning.

One of her guards said she was more interested in her hair comb than her approaching deportation. "How do I look with my new permanent?" he said she asked. "It's the last one I'll get in America."

LEGION CONVENTION SLATED FOR NEWPORT IN JUNE

The annual pilgrimage of the Los Angeles county council of American Legion will take place at this harbor city June 13 and 14. Between 3000 and 5000 Legionnaires from the Fourth and Fifth Areas, representing all cities of the Southland, will attend the pre-convention caucus. Comm. Albert W. Dyckman of the Newport Harbor post announced today.

This event, usually held at Catalina, will also bring hundreds of members of the Legion auxiliary to Newport Beach, Mayor H. H. Williamson said today.

Registration will take place at the local Legion Hall. Water sports, boating and bathing will open festivities, and a grand Legion ball at the Rendezvous will Kayak races at 3 p. m. and a dance at the ballroom will end the pilgrimage.

MUSIC WEEK OBSERVANCE IS PLANNED

Programs to Start Here Sunday; to Continue Through Friday

Santa Ana will start its observance of National Music week next Sunday. The federal music project band will launch the week of musical celebration with a concert in Birch park at 2:30 p. m.

The Musical Arts club and the federal music project of Orange county are cooperating in organizing programs for the week's festival of music.

These groups have requested churches of Santa Ana to observe the week with appropriate music at their evening services. Arrangements for church observance of the week are in charge of J. Whitford Hall.

Fiesta on Tuesday
Monday will be set aside for presentation of musical entertainment by young musicians of outstanding ability. Carolyn Haughton is in charge of arrangements for the program.

A full Spanish fiesta will be presented on Tuesday under the direction of Ruth Frothingham. Wednesday will be devoted to a program from the Santa Ana schools, including music from the kindergarten up to the junior college. Mary Batten Steffensen will be in charge.

Operetta Friday Night
The Music Arts club will present its own program on Thursday.

The Willard Junior High school will present the operetta, "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," on Friday.

All programs with the exception of the latter will be free. Organizations desiring to appear on the program may communicate with the federal music project, 306½ East Fourth street.

COURT TO HEAR WATER CASE

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—A heated controversy of long standing over water rights on the Colorado river will be aired before the supreme court Tuesday.

The high court on that day hears oral arguments on the state of Arizona's petition for leave to sue California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico for a final adjudication of waters of the Colorado.

Arizona accuses California, aided by huge federal subsidies, of attempting to "monopolize" the river and thus "clouding" Arizona title to an "equitable share."

Tidelands Ballot Measure Titled

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27. (AP)—"Leasing Tideland for Oil" is the title given by Attorney General U. S. Webb to the initiative measure proposed by the Natural Resources revenue association of Los Angeles.

The measure would authorize the state director of finance to lease tidelands, submerged and overflowed lands, for whippstock drilling in exchange for a 14-27 per cent royalty in hydrocarbons extracted; would prohibit surface drilling on such lands not already leased or allocated; would prohibit pollution of waters, and would set aside half the state's revenue to acquire, improve and maintain state beaches and parks.

Gardner's Poem This Time Is About Sunflower

(The following is one of a series of poems on California wildflowers by Robert Gardner, of Orange. The flowers Mr. Gardner writes about have historical significance.—Editor.)

THE SUNFLOWER

By Robert Gardner
I find them along wide highways, In canyons and weedy byways.

Their message of sunshine graces, Both fertile and barren places. The petals are "Old-Sol" yellow; The centers are brown and mellow.

The sun has a mystic power, Which forces each lovely flower, To worship the sunshine ample. We humans might follow example.

Use: The Indians ground the sunflower seeds, And mixed them with their acorn meal.

Relianthus annuus—Stems: Six inches to two feet high. Leaves: Long-lanceolate; pointed at both ends. Flowers: Yellow, a ray-flower; a disc-flower; the center is brown.

COOK SCHOOL OPENS HERE WEDNESDAY

Three-Day Event Will Be Staged by Journal at West Coast

Only one more day . . . until The Journal's big free public cooking school opens Wednesday for a three-day cookfest in the Fox West Coast theater!

Housewives throughout Orange county are setting aside from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to spend at the cooking school, where Margaret S. Lackland will present another of her splendidly informative lecture series of what's new and worthwhile in the culinary science.

There's be the thrill of seeing the very latest in modern kitchens on the stage, the excitement of examining your cookbook with delicious, practical new recipes and menus, and the excitement of seeing given away a long list of prizes, including an O'Keefe and Merritt gas range.

And for your added pleasure, Mrs. Housewife, there'll be special entertainment each day, planned by The Journal. Music and surprises to be announced later will lend zest to the program, which is planned with never a dull moment.

Although all the seats in the theater are very comfortable, it is advised that you arrive on the scene early, since doors will open daily at 8:30 a. m., and you'll want to be certain of having a place at the cooking school.

JR. INSTITUTE IN ACTIVITY PLANS

Initiation ceremonies for two and plans for spring activities occupied Y. L. I. members Thursday evening, meeting in the K. of C. hall. Mrs. Alta D. Nicholson and Miss Mildred Collins, Orange, were the two initiates. Mrs. William Maag, president of the group, was named to attend convention of Diocesan council of Catholic women in Los Angeles, May 14 and 15, and to head delegation to district institute meeting in Coronado, May 2 and 3.

Mrs. Clyde Ashen will arrange a novel entertainment in K. of C. hall, April 30. Y. L. I. spring dance is slated for May 29, at the Ebell club, with Mrs. Thomas Gisler and Miss Estelle Schlusser as co-chairman.

Young women interested in joining the junior institute to be installed May 24 are asked to notify Mrs. Robert Sandon, 1410 West Washington.

Miss Ruth Frandson Announces Summer Wedding Plans at Lovely Luncheon

Family Home Is Scene of Festivities

Cards Tied to Corsages Reveal Early Summer Date for Nuptials

Miss Ruth Frandson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Frandson, 2003 North Ross street, was hostess at a luncheon at her home Saturday, and announced plans for her approaching marriage to Dr. Bard Daughters, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Daughters, of Santa Ana.

Guests arrived at 1 o'clock. The table was beautifully appointed with spring flowers. As a centerpiece, the hostess had placed a single white gardenia in a crystal bowl resting on a bed of fern and baby breath.

At each place was a corsage of white gardenias, sweet peas, baby breath and fern. Mr. Daughters had sent Mrs. Frandson a corsage of pink roses; his mother, Mrs. Daughters, one of yellow roses, and his fiancée, one of white gardenias.

Tied to the bow on each guest's corsage was a small white envelope which served as a placecard. Inside each was a small card inscribed: "Ruth and Bard—early summer, 1936."

After lunch guests adjourned to the garden where group pictures were taken. Following this interval, monopoly was played. Prizes went to Miss Audrey Granas and Miss Catherine Eklund.

In addition to the hostess, the two mothers, guests included Misses Virginia Pritchard, Caroline Davis, Geraldine Gilbert, Anne Wetherall, Ruth Budd, Muriel Engelke, Betty Hammond, Jean Munroe, Mary Henderson, Ruth Greenwald, Audrey Granas, Catherine Eklund, Peggy Paxton, Margaret Lawrence and La Vonne Frandson.

TWO ENTERTAIN AT PLEASANT PARTY

Mrs. John Backus and Mrs. Harvey Spears entertained together last Thursday at a gayly appointed luncheon and bridge party for 40 of their friends, in the latter's home, 714 South Ross street.

The party, at which orange and yellow flowers and other appointments struck an early summer decorative note, was one in a series to be given in the near future. Mesdames Don Leyden, Walter Hill and J. E. Paul scored in the afternoon's contract play.

SUNDAY NIGHT PARTY GIVEN IN HOME FETES DR. NORTON

Mrs. G. Stanley Norton gave a Sunday night supper party last evening in her home on South Birch street as a birthday surprise party to her husband, Dr. Norton.

Monopoly and bridge provided after-dinner entertainment for the guests, who were Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, Miss Ruth Owens and Ernest Stump.

Friday evening, Mrs. Norton entertained with a party for Dr. Norton's grandmother, Mrs. G. E. Norton; his aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Palmer; his cousin, Judson Palmer, and Miss Fay Morris.

Romance Of Campus Is Climaxed

The culmination of a campus romance at the University of Southern California is forecast by the announcement of the approaching wedding of Miss Isabel Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith of Houston, Tex., to Frank Val Jean McCoy of Santa Ana. He is the son of Frank L. McCoy of Salineville, Ohio.

Miss Smith, a senior at S. C., is president of the Trojan chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha. In addition to her sorority activities she holds membership in Trojan Amazons, junior women's honorary service organization; Spooks and Spokes, junior women's honorary scholastic society; is clerk of the Judicial Court of the Women's Self-Government association; and has served as a member of both the W. S. G. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets.

Mr. McCoy was graduated from Santa Ana Junior college in 1931; from the University of Southern California in 1933; and received his M. A. degree from the Trojan institution in 1935. While on the S. C. campus he served as University Play Productions manager, and was a member of Phi Delta Kappa, national professional education fraternity. He is now instructor in the department of social studies at Santa Ana High school.

No definite date has been set for the wedding, which is to be held in June.

GO TO BAKERSFIELD
Mrs. Earl Lepper of Santa Ana and her sister, Mrs. Loretta Lampton of Norwalk, spent the weekend pleasantly at Bakersfield, where they went to visit friends.

Mary Gardens Thrown Open for Tour

"Look, Mama, there's more garden," a delighted little girl cried as she looked from the Chinese patio of the Sherman Stevens home in Tustin toward bright, bordered, shady lawn.

At each garden visited during the Y. W. C. A. tour Saturday afternoon, the little girl's remark echoed in the minds of other members of the party, for the variety of ways in which owners had made their gardens attractive and individual seemed limitless.

Typically colonial, the result of years of planting and tending, was the iris-bordered rose garden of Miss Martha Ritchey, Tustin, starting point of the tour. An aged, giant mulberry tree, shady lanes and old-fashioned flower borders about the stately, home-like Ritchey dwelling interested adult members of the party of approximately 150, while children in the group were attracted to "Barney," great St. Bernard pet of the Ritcheys.

From the circular driveway and lawn fronting the Cood Adams residence on Tustin avenue, a gridded gate gave entrance to a series of sunny patios planted in pansies and roses, with semi-circular fountain and aviary.

Bordering the wide drive which circles the Tustin home of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, dozens of bush and trellis-climbing roses bloomed profusely. The pleasing, clean-cut green and white of their modernized Colonial dwelling seemed characteristic of the entire garden, when dozens of plants have been added in the past few months.

Landscaping Fine
Chinese objects d'art, rare and tropical birds and plants were admired at the Stevens home before the tour enthusiasts left Tustin. Plant needs which necessitated planting of different species in certain parts of the grounds were explained by the Stevens' gardener, whose special pride is in the rhododendron, azaleas and tropical ferns, and in the cactus garden, marked with rock souvenirs of the Stephens' trips abroad.

More formal but no less colorful and charming were gardens of the Holmes Bishop residence on Fairhaven, characterized by arbores and trellises, a circular sunken garden, spacious lawns and a wide, shaded driveway. To those who have observed developments of the Bishops' landscaping plans during the past two years, the result provided that beautiful gardens may be made in a comparatively short time.

Japanese influence prevailed at the pool, patio and gate of Mrs. Severn Schulte's garden, 2530 North Valencia. Beginnings of a garden planned by Mrs. J. H. Jarman, 2040 North Broadway, were viewed.

For Outdoor Living
One of the newer gardens visited was that of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Darnell, 2731 North Flower street. An outdoor living room, wishing well, falls-fed pool and lathe house have recently been completed by the Darnells, who plan to grow numerous delicate plants in the cool, rock-bordered beds and moss-lined walls of the shelter.

That acres of ground are not necessary for an utterly charming garden was demonstrated by Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Redfield, 2465 Riverside drive, who showed visitors their backyard "recreation project," complete with rocky pool, flagged walks, shaded outdoor dining room and barbecue pit.

Exemplification of the Cape Cod type of residence and its characteristic pool and gardens was viewed at the home of Mrs. Fredrick Elliott, 2119 North Ross street, before the tour was completed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Fowler, 615 West Santa Clara avenue. At the time the tour was made last year, the gardens about the low, white house were quite young, and visitors exclaimed fulfillment of the promises of beauty realized in the interval.

After seeing the grounds guests gathered on the cool veranda for tea. Mrs. J. T. Wilson was in charge of serving, with the Mesdames Wilbur Barr, Horace Stevens, Chester Horton, Leiland Finley, E. F. Bruning, Fred Forgy and Miss Dorothy Forgy serving at intervals. Mrs. Fowler was assisted by Mrs. H. A. Gardner and Mrs. Anton H. Segerstrom, garden hostess.

HOUSEWARMING FOR CALLAHAN
The new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Callahan, 1636 Palm street, was "warmed" Friday afternoon at a surprise party arranged by members of the First Christian church ladies' aid. Mesdames Ed Herberg and William Hughes were hostesses.

Needlework and conversation followed a tour of the house, and refreshments were served. In the party were Mesdames William Hagtrop, C. E. Price, Laura Green, A. V. Gerrard, W. R. Hilyard, J. P. Hanson, Andrew Hansler, Grant Henderson, Lynn Crasher, Walters, Marlow, W. S. Buch, George Gould, E. G. Summers, C. E. Clem, Ed Manning, E. A. Cox, Charles Johnson, the hostesses and guest of honor.

CLUB TO MEET

The Laguna Beach Woman's club will meet at the clubhouse Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Paul W. Colburn, vice principal of the local high school will speak on "Trees" and Mrs. Malinda Woodworth will discuss interesting current events.

ALDEN MORSE CENTER OF FESTIVITIES AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Alden Morse was quite delighted in birthday greetings at festivities Saturday afternoon when his aunt, Mrs. George Walker, gave a birthday party for him on his seventh anniversary, in the Walker home, 2425 Valencia drive.

Alden and his friends played beanbag, hunted peanuts and otherwise enjoyed themselves in the garden. Later they went inside to where the dining table was canopied with yellow and orange crepe paper and bright with party caps, paper linens, and tops as favors.

Birthday cake with candles was served with ice cream. Alden's cousin, Margaret Walker, was the only girl present.

Wedding Party Reunited For Day

Twenty-five years ago Saturday . . . Miss Grace Whitcomb of Los Angeles and Herbert Rankin of Santa Ana were married in an impressive 4 o'clock service in the Church of the Angels, Los Angeles.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Rankin left Santa Ana for Glenn Ranch, where they had engaged the commodious "Hacienda" and seven of the nine members of their wedding party will share a week-end of horseback riding, picnicking and reminiscing.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopkins of Balboa (he was an usher at the wedding), Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rush (she was Miss Eloise Strohbridge, bridesmaid, and he was best man) their wedding marked the climax of another Occidental college romance such as that of the Rankins' of South Pasadena, and Miss Patricia Putnam of Highland Park, who made a very quiet little flower girl at the wedding and now is a U. C. L. A. graduate.

Mrs. Rankin's sister, Mrs. Manuel Rogers of Peoria, Ill., who was her maid of honor, and her husband were invited to the celebration as was an usher, William Holly of St. Louis. Both sent regrets and cordial congratulatory messages.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin's children, Patricia and Danny, remained at home for the occasion, while their parents celebrated the silver day with those who saw them embark on their joyous matrimonial voyage.

Nothing was lacking to make a perfect setting for the celebration. The luxurious Spanish "hacienda," a special turkey menu and an anniversary cake came as the greeting of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Tally, owners of the ranch, and a cowboy breakfast welcomed Sunday into being.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Rankin were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rush yesterday, and at 4 o'clock the four entered the little English Church of the Angels and heard a special service at the same hour which marked the Rankins' marriage a quarter-century ago. The solemn dignity of the service recalled their own marriage vows. They came home to find telegrams and flowers to add to the already considerable number of silver, spoken and floral anniversary gifts they received.

MR. AND MRS. DANZ LEAVE FOR LONDON ON SUMMER JAUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Danz of Anaheim, he the author of two clever books on modern art, left this afternoon on the East Asiatic liner, The Canada, for London and the art centers of Europe.

Their trip will keep them away from the states until late in August. Mr. Danz is a past president of the Laguna Beach Artists association and has been prominent for years in music and art circles of the Southland. He has just completed his second book on art. The first, "Arthustralia, Jr.," received nationwide comment.

BIRTHDAYS ARE INCENTIVE FOR GAY DINNER PARTY

Because her father, Joshua Barker of Tustin, was 75 years old and her son, Steel Van Horn, was 21, Mrs. C. G. Van Horn gave a gay birthday Sunday dinner party in her home at 319 West Seventh street.

A profusion of spring flowers decorated the rooms. One large birthday cake was shared by the two honored guests.

Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Van Horn and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Van Horn.

MRS. PAUL HALES HOSTESS AT TEA

Mrs. Paul Hales (Barbara Dunton) shared the hospitality of her new home at 1407 East Cubbon street with a group of her friends Friday afternoon for bridge, knitting and chatting.

Late in the day the recent bride used lovely linens from her bridal array, and spring flowers as she served open-face sandwiches, cakes and tea.

Lovely Rites Unite Pair in Church

A beautiful wedding, that of Miss Josephine Shimp Luchau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Luchau, Olive, and Harold Paulus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus, sr., also of Olive, took place last evening at 6:30 o'clock, in the St. Paul Lutheran church.

Maid of honor was Miss Helen Timme, gown in pale pink satin, with picture hat to match. She carried pink roses and sweet peas. Other attendants were Mrs. Dillard Wilkinson, Anaheim, and Miss Melvina Stohlmann, dressed in tints of pink with sweet peas and pink picture hats; and Misses Maria and Mildred Caldwell, twin sisters, as junior bridesmaids, in Nile green with hats to match, and pink sweet peas. The flower girl was Julianne Timme, all in white.

Arthur Paulus was best man, and Edwin Paulus and Walter Meier, ushers, set John and Russell Weiss were junior ushers. Little Jack Timme was ringbearer. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Emil H. Kreidt, pastor of the church.

Large baskets of white larkspur and pink snapdragons formed the setting. The bride entered the aisle through a small gate, overhung with an arch of Cecil Brunner roses. Preceding the ceremony, the organist, A. W. Schmid, gave a 10-minute recital, and Robert Kreidt sang "O Perfect Love."

Afterward, a reception and wedding supper was held in the home of the bride's parents on the Orange-Olive boulevard. Supper was served in the garden. Tables were set for 125 guests. Centered with roses and tapers, a four-course supper was served. The bride cut a large wedding cake. While the dinner was served, the Rev. Mr. Kreidt spoke, as did John Timme, Gus Kahlen, Harry Schmid, Russ Weiss, Walter Meier, W. E. Paulus, A. W. Schmid, O. Burdy and Robert Paulus, Jr. Miss Florence Heim and Mrs. Gus Kahlen sang, as did Robert Kreidt. As the party ended, "Abide With Me" was sung by guests.

Assisting in the serving were Misses Helen Heinenmann, Lorena Timken, Evelyn Timken, Irene Lemke, Norma Lemke, Agnes Meirhoff, Margaret Kreidt, Matilda Brelje, Dorothy Truempler and Lucille Caldwell.

GOLDEN WEDDING ATTRACTS ORANGE COUNTY GROUP
An Orange county group motored to San Diego yesterday for a family dinner at the Thomas Loftus home in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Loftus' golden wedding day, which is today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashen of Santa Ana is a niece of the golden couple, who were married in San Diego and have lived there ever since. One of their sons, Rainier Loftus, brought his family from Washington for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lackey of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Ashen and sons, Jimmy and Harry, of Santa Ana; and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Munroe of Hollywood were among those present.

MRS. CROOKSHANK IS SHOWER HONOREE
Mrs. Ronald Crookshank was feted at a pretty layette shower given recently in the Jackson home at Anaheim by Mrs. Frank Humphreys of Los Angeles.

Bridge was the evening's diversion, and Mesdames Robert Graham, Herbert Stroschein and Russell Sullivan won table awards. The hostess served a delightful two-course supper, using the Easter motif in her dainty appointments.

Other guests were Miss Stella Jackson of Anaheim, Mesdames Ralph and William Kolkhorst of Orange and Mesdames Colby McKinney and Myron Dungan and Misses Hattie Bell Wall and Katherine Spicer, Santa Ana.

50 COUPLES ATTEND CLUB DANCE

Some 50 couples whiled Friday evening away pleasantly at the April dance of the Santa Ana Country club in the clubhouse.

Lacey Swain's orchestra provided dance music. Lovely new gowns added a smart springlike touch to the party.

May 22 will be the next monthly dance at the club, a sports affair.

Mary Stoddard Taking "Better or Worse" Vows Literally Would Solve Triangle Problems

Lack of regard for wedding vows is the cause of "triangle" trouble, volunteers "Disillusioned." Although there is nothing original in his discovery, there are many couples who do forget this basic cause of marital disruption in bickerings which follow. The "other woman" in the triangle is not the chief cause of difficulty, but unwillingness to take a little of the "worse," he says.

Lakewood C C Setting of Party
Lakewood Country clubhouse at Long Beach proved a delightful setting for the formal supper dance given by the Southern California Fifty-Fifty club Saturday evening.

The hosts committee included Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Anderson (she in smartly patterned summer crepe print), Hugh Edwards and Miss Ruth Garner (she in coral chiffon with abbreviated coat, full-skirted), Clyde Hill and Miss Elaine Hatch (she in white crepe with brilliant), Hume West and Miss Stella Jackson (she in apricot satin) and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gregory (Mrs. Gregory wearing violet-toned printed crepe).

Supper was served at a table laid with yellow linens and festive with bowls of yellow and bronze snapdragons. Lacey Swain's orchestra played "swing" music for the merry evening of dancing.

Monday evening, May 4, feminine members of the club will play bridge in the home of Mrs. E. R. McCoy, Fullerton, while the men have a stag at the home of Merrill Gregory in the same city.

June 13 and the California County club are time and place for the club's next formal event. Seen dancing were Miss Virginia Berry in peach organdie with huge puff sleeves . . . Mrs. E. R. McCoy in pale pink crepe tunic gown with self-covered, tiny buttons . . . Mrs. Al Colby, turquoise lace . . . Miss Midge Norman, wearing peach net trimmed in turquoise velvet bows . . . Mrs. LeRoy Burns in pink net with taffeta flowers . . . Mrs. Bob Redington in Nile green satin with corsage of flame flowers . . . (a crowd of club members will attend husband Bob's inaugural ball of the Los Angeles Elks club next Saturday evening . . . Miss Lee Fernandez in black taffeta with cluster of Cecil Brunner rosebuds . . . Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell in white organdie patterned with tiny pink rosebuds . . . Edna Laughlin in black crepe with deep red rosebuds . . . Mrs. Estee Brown in pale green lace with tulle roses . . . Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolcott of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Fuller of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Bob W. Miller of Santa Ana were guests for the evening.

MRS. COLBY M'KINNEY HOSTESS AT PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT
Unusually lovely were the appointments chosen by Mrs. Colby McKinney for the buffet supper party at which she feted a popular bride-elect, Miss Odessa Miller, who is to be married next month to Claire Gibbank of Santa Ana. The party was given Friday evening in the McKinney home on Wright street.

For her serving table the hostess used delicate lace linens and a silver bowl filled with snapdragons. Tall white tapers stood in silver bases at either side of the centerpiece.

Small supper tables were centered with pottery horns of plenty spilling out pastel flowers and ending in other slender white candles. Bridge, knitting and conversation occupied the after-dinner hours. A collection of pretty gifts went to the bride.

Other guests were Mrs. Helen Whitman and Mesdames Martha Houts, Dorothy and Elsie Heide of Anaheim and Mesdames Ellen Bowman, Florence Faulkner and Helen Roberts and Misses Elisabeth Hurd and Helen Kubitz of Santa Ana.

50 Couples at Sigma Theta Dance

Fifty couples mingled happily at the first sports dance of the Sigma Theta sorority, Saturday evening in the Long Beach Municipal clubhouse. Miss Ruth Owens, wearing a trim yellow knit suit with white accessories, stood with Ernest Stump as an informal reception committee for the evening.

Jack Giehl's orchestra played for dancing.

The attractive E. R. Majors home on North Flower street was scene of a pre-dance party at which rallied Sigma Tau Psi sorority members and their escorts for the Sigma Theta dance.

In the group were Miss Mary Emil Majors and Albert Macres, Miss Betty Rowland and Dick Melrose, Miss Jean Rowland and David Hill, Miss Genevieve Glover and Lloyd Scott, Miss Harriett Chapin and Gene Anderson, Miss Dolcie Cox and Mickey Edmond, Miss Fern Berkner and Edmund Guard, Miss Jewel Thebeau and Wesley Hawk, and Miss Georgia Turner and Max Wilson.

To add zest to the strawberries in the short-cake, add a dash of lemon to the crushed fruit. It gives a singularly pleasing flavor.

It is true that there are some men who won't divorce their wives. But whether it is love or just selfishness to want to keep them from some other man, I don't know. It is a fine thing for the husband to bring in the money. But the spending of that money is a small part of what is expected of a real mother.

Sincerely,
"DISILLUSIONED."

STOCKS FALL BY WAYSIDE ON MARKET

French Elections and Breaking of Drought Thought Reasons

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Stocks fell by the wayside in today's market, many issues yielding 1 to 6 points or so.

The list was moderately irregular at the start, but the volume was small. Heavy offerings began to appear shortly after noon and for a while, the rush to unload put the ticker tape several minutes behind flood transactions.

Principal losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Lanes, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific, Santa Fe, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, American Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Westinghouse.

Wheat yielded 2 or more cents a bushel at Chicago on reports of rains in drought districts. Cotton declined. Secondary bonds pointed lower. Foreign currencies were fairly steady in terms of the dollar.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The stock market went into a tailspin today and crashed for losses ranging from 1 to 6 points or so at the worst.

Numerous new lows were recorded and, at the height of the selling stampede, the ticker tape fell several minutes behind flood transactions. Late support reduced declines somewhat, but the close was weak. Transfers were around 2,400,000 shares.

CHICAGO, April 27. (AP)—Notwithstanding export purchases that totaled nearly 2,000,000 bushels, acute weakness of wheat prices today persisted from start to finish.

Setback of quotations in Chicago exceeded 4 cents a bushel at times, and in various other markets, went to the farthest limit permitted. Lowest prices in Chicago were reached in the late dealings.

Wheat closed shaky, 3 1/2-4 1/2c under Saturday's finish, May 97 1/2-98c, July 98 1/2-99c, corn 1 1/2-2 1/4c down, May 61 1/2-62 1/2c, oats 5c to 1c off, and provisions 3c to 2 1/2c fall. Closing prices:

88 Per Cent War Profit Tax Studied

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—The senate finance subcommittee considering the munition committee's war profits bill has agreed on a tax schedule ranging up to 88 per cent of income of individuals in excess of $1,000,000 a year.

Approval of the schedule eliminated one of the major difficulties encountered by the subcommittee in reaching agreement on the measure.

The same schedule would—in event of a major war—cut down personal exemptions for $2500 for married persons to $1600, and single persons from $1000 to $800. Dependents would be cut from $400 to $250.

Wallace Finishes New Publication

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Secretary Wallace, who has taken sharp issue with some supreme court interpretations of the constitution, today was revealed to be putting the finishing touches on a new book entitled "Whose Constitution?"

Assistants to the secretary described the book as "not political, but economic." They said it discusses the general welfare clause of the constitution and deals with interpretations of the document.

Streamliner for Union Pacific

The world's largest and fastest long distance streamline train, "City of Los Angeles," has been completed in Chicago and will be delivered to the Union Pacific railroad within a few days, Carl R. Gray, president, has announced.

The streamliner will go into service between Los Angeles and Chicago on a 39 1/2 hours schedule May 15. The new speed train will bring Chicago and New York one business day closer to Los Angeles and Southern California points.

The "City of Los Angeles" consists of nine revenue cars and two power cars. It has a total capacity for 170 passengers; 84 in the Pullman sleeping cars and 86 in the coaches. The train includes four Pullman cars, two coaches, a dining-lounge car, a kitchen-dormitory-baggage car and a mail-baggage-express car and is completely air-conditioned throughout.

The streamliner, which resembles a huge projectile on wheels, is powered with two Diesel engines with a combined 2100 horsepower capable of speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour.

Rain Headed for Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27. (AP)—Two storms, one moving over Oregon and Nevada, and the other several hundred miles at sea, will bring showers to Coast states today and tomorrow, the weather bureau forecast.

Honor Orange Church Pastor

ORANGE.—A singular honor has been conferred upon Dr. Robert B. McAulay, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, as he has been selected by the board of the San Francisco Theological Seminary to deliver the annual commencement address there Thursday, Dr. McAulay has chosen "A Matchless Ministry" for his topic. He will leave Tuesday for San Anselmo, the location of the seminary, where he will attend the annual meeting of the board of trustees on Wednesday. Dr. McAulay is a graduate of the seminary.

The Port Of Missing Men

The following names of missing persons are furnished The Journal through the courtesy of the bureau of identification at the sheriff's office.

Mable Ruth Maxwell, your parents are extremely worried over your failure to return to your home in Salinas. They have reported your disappearance to police, and have informed them that they will make arrangements for your transportation home. Please communicate with them.

Robert Powers, your disappearance from your home in Alhambra has been reported to police who are doing everything possible to find you. Please get in touch with your parents, and they will send you sufficient funds for your transportation home.

ENTHUSIASM RUNS HIGH IN BUILDING ON JOURNAL CARRIER EVENT COAST NOW IS ACTIVE

Enthusiasm still runs high among The Journal carrier boys as they pass the midway mark in their current popularity contest. Spurred on by Circulation Manager Ralph Frankis' announcement that there still is time for everyone of them to get into the prize brackets, some of them have piled up many votes over the week-end.

Letters continue to pour in. Mrs. Turner of Laguna Beach writes: "Trevor Davis, route 2, Laguna has given extremely good service as a Journal carrier. He has always been prompt, and above all, polite."

S. L. Campbell, 1138 1/2 West First street, who is a customer of Carl Downs, route 5, writes that he certainly enjoys The Journal and the way it is delivered. Melvin Stigers received a letter from Mrs. Alice McGill, 405 West First street, who says: "Melvin Stigers delivers our paper regularly and promptly, his courteous and businesslike, and it is a pleasure to deal with him."

Other letters of commendation have come in for Bob Davy, route 39, from Mrs. F. J. Albrecht, 2037 North Ross street; G. S. Jordan, 2006 Victoria drive; Mrs. H. R. Ginkelhoff, 2027 Greenleaf; Alan A. Revell, 2215 North Ross street; Mrs. George R. Wells, 2020 Victoria drive; E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria drive; C. W. Luken, 1906 North Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson, 1219 South Ross street.

Mother, Man Held In Husband's Death

MERIDAN, Tex., April 27. (AP)—Mrs. Clomer Jermstead, 26, mother of two small children, and George Pace, 27, tenant farmer, are held without bond on charges of fatally poisoning Menlo Jermstead, 27, the woman's husband.

County Attorney S. C. Smith said both prisoners signed statements. He said Mrs. Jermstead stated she put poison in her husband's coffee Friday morning. Smith said Pace admitted he purchased poison at a drug store.

Mother Killed Under N.Y. Subway

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—A woman identified as Mrs. Augusta Radetzky, 36, was killed beneath a subway train Saturday when she plunged to the tracks after her 2-year-old son either fell or was pushed from the platform.

Police at first believed she had been killed in a heroic attempt to save the boy's life, but later expressed belief she had committed suicide. The child was only slightly injured.

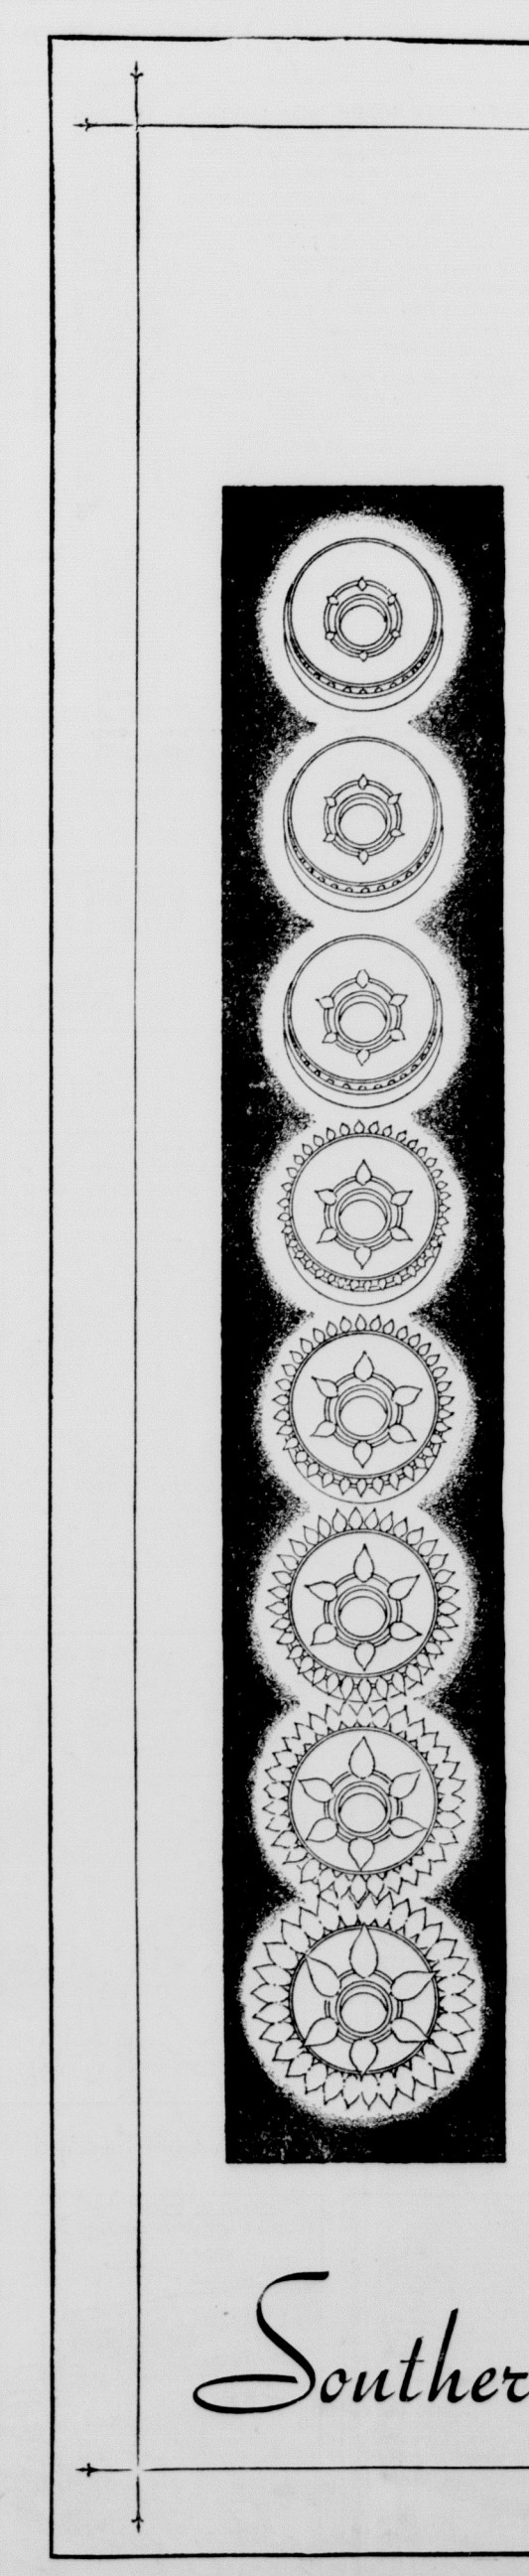

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27. (AP)—The increase in building activity along the Pacific coast, particularly residential building, appears to be the predominant influence in lifting business generally to levels well above those of a year ago.

This situation was forecast some months ago by some business observers and economists, who foresaw the continued recovery trend depending more on building and less on agriculture than last year.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco called attention to the building upturn as a general stimulus to industrial and trade activity in its monthly report, just released.

Finding March business expanded, the bank's analysis attributed much of the gain to "increased activity in building, particularly of houses."

SAFETYWAY SALES BOOM
SAN FRANCISCO, April 27. (AP)—Sales of Safetyway Stores, Inc., totaled $25,100,634 in the four weeks ended April 18, L. Giles, auditor, reported. This showing was 17.73 per cent better than the $21,321,010 for the like period last year.

Choice!

There are many points of superiority about the modern, natural gas range which make it the choice of discerning women in every walk of life. It is not surprising, therefore, that up-to-date cooking schools everywhere—including the one conducted under the auspices of this newspaper—use the gas range in demonstrations of modern cookery.

Note, for example, the illustration on the left. It will give you some idea of the great variety of cooking "heats" or "speeds" on the top burners of the range used at the cooking school and in thousands of modern, Southern California homes. Every desired heat—from very low "simmering" to very "high"—is ready, instantly, at your command.

This instant flexibility of heats and speeds, is an exclusive feature of modern gas ranges. It saves you money, time, work and worry. Quick meals for a hurry-up breakfast or lunch or longer cooking processes such as roasting, or stewing, are yours—with a gas range—at a cost for fuel as low as one-fifth of a cent per person per meal!

Watch the performance of the range at the cooking school. Observe the precision with which it delivers the heat asked for—in the oven or the top burners. Note the many automatic features which make cooking today a pleasure instead of a chore!

The new financing plan—which any dealer will be glad to explain to you—makes it easy for you to have your choice of any of the many types and models of gas ranges installed at once in your own kitchen. The low monthly payments will be offset by the greater ease in cooking, the saving of time and work and in your gas bill. Get one now!

One more good point—of the many good points which make gas ranges the choice of more than 2,000,000 California women—is the ventilated ovens, found only in gas ranges. The very thought of "stale air" cookery is obnoxious to women who know. There's a noteworthy and a noticeable difference in a cake or roast or other oven-cooked dish which is prepared in a ventilated oven. Ask the woman who has tried both!

The Relief Dilemma

FEW deny that the federal government must finance the bulk of relief for the next fiscal year. Fewer challenge the President's relief cost estimate of $1,500,000,000 for the relief bill.

Great difference of opinion exists, however, as to the wisdom of borrowing all this money and thereby adding to the debt and deficit, and as to the best way to spend it.

Soon we must quit this carefree borrowing against the future and begin paying as we go. The adding of more millions to the unprecedented public debt may be justified in emergency, but unfortunately relief is getting to be altogether too much a routine business.

Then there may be ways of getting more and better relief for our tax dollars. Let us examine various suggestions.

The least expensive form of relief it is said, would be the creation of production-for-use cooperatives among the unemployed. This is the plan urged by Upton Sinclair here and tried on a limited scale through FERA in Ohio. Under such a barter system, it is estimated, the relief cost would be less than one-third the present. But it would set up a collectivist economy within our profit structure. The American people would never accept such a dual set-up—even if it would work. So that seems to be out.

Next cheapest in dollars would be the dole—cheaper if food and clothes were bought direct from producers and passed out through government commissaries, slightly more expensive if purchased through retail channels. Handouts, whether in kind or in cash, are comparatively economical as to cost—estimated at around $316 per family per year—and simple of administration.

But it is contended such dole system would prove most costly in the long run, in damage to the morale of those who receive it. It is contended that the high morale among the millions of American jobless today, after six years of depression, is due largely to the administration's policy of taking idle men from breadlines and giving them jobs.

Slightly more expensive is the modified dole—combination of gifts and work relief. This was tried extensively in the year between the end of CWA and the beginning of WPA.

The average cost was $475 per family. It proved to be an unsatisfactory compromise, and was abandoned, amid widespread criticism of the general uselessness of the made-work projects, and of the damage to the self-respect of those so employed.

Next in expense is the WPA plan, now in operation on a wide scale, and the mainstay of the administration program for the year ahead. WPA undertakes to provide employment at slightly better than subsistence wages, but less than wages paid in private industry. On the whole, WPA projects have furnished an average of 1500 hours of work per year per man at an average overall cost of $975.

Most expensive and probably the best of all plans for creating employment is that of PWA. The millions spent by Mr. Ickes have provided a great stimulus to private industry, have provided self-respecting employment at prevailing wages for thousands of men who might otherwise have been forced to go on relief, and have resulted in the construction of enduring public works.

But the expense is great. Jobs created under PWA have cost the federal and state governments an average of $2200 per man employed. A substantial bloc in congress now insists that $750,000,000 of the new relief appropriation be earmarked for PWA. That would leave $750,000,000 for Mr. Hopkins' WPA. The question which congress must decide is: can we afford it? The earmarking of half the relief appropriation for PWA would mean that before the fiscal year was ended, WPA would be out of funds and back at the doors of congress for a new appropriation. Congress would then have to appropriate more borrowed money or leave several hundred thousand families to starvation.

At present, the shortage of relief funds in California has become so acute—due to the federal government's withdrawal from the direct relief field last November—that a special session of the state legislature looms as the only possible way to raise the $2,000,000 needed until the new fiscal year begins, July 1. There is the possibility that some form of decentralized county relief scheme may have to be evolved—with relief payments just barely enough to cover necessities.

Standing out like a sore thumb in all this relief mess is the need for a socially scientific policy, financed within our taxable means, in place of the various improvisations of the past and present. Congress could well write into the relief appropriation a provision creating a federal relief policy board to evolve a long-range program.

Meanwhile we have to make a choice of the least of several evils.

A Worthwhile Enterprise

DURING the past nine years, some 50 or 60 of Southern California's recognized Little theater groups have paraded their best talent here in the annual one-act play tournaments of the Santa Ana Community players.

The tournament was the idea of the late Mrs. Julia Cummings, veteran worker in the Players' association. It was the first of the type sponsored on the Pacific coast.

The 10th annual tournament will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week in Ebelle clubhouse with nine guest plays and a local play on the program. It deserves the support of all interested in dramatic arts.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

O. O. McIntyre

In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal: An esteemed fellow litterateur, out of Manhattan's plushy alcoves, writes me vividly of his reactions to what he calls Hollywood's perpetual Halloween party. He departed from there overnight with all vestiges of sanity gone.

He admits it was his initial visit and that Gene Fowler publicly denounced him as one of the pleasure-mad worldlings who give the cinema capital a bad name. But he points with scorn to certain daftness that has affected a civilization turned, he declares, suddenly jinxed.

There are, for instance, Nunnally Johnson's shoes which he swears are blue suede. That Joel Sayre has just taken his 6-year-old daughter into old Mexico in hope of a ringside at a revolution. And that William Faulkner has developed a sudden passion for going on pig shoots.

Also there is Frederic March who has gone precious and talks Proust between scenes and there's a dish called Hard Boiled Eggs Gloria Swanson. Furthermore, he swears the balcony in a scene ready to be shot appeared 75 feet off ground. He suspects they are going to shoot "Wherefore art thou?" from fire ladders.

In a postscript he adds: "Don't let anybody tell you about the quiet elegance of all Hollywood parties or how no film player ever steps out any more. They don't when shooting scenes but when they let go a few could show many of us a thing or two even in Jack Black's Herald Tribune bar." Then he tells of just returning from a party that ran 30 hours straight and some of the details he doesn't care to set down on his chaste Corona. But one gathers it combined all the salient features of the Beaux Arts ball, a Harlem drag, Guy Fawkes day at Leon and Eddie's and Armistice Day in a madhouse. There were overtones, too, of Race Night at New London, Cynthia White's Webster Hall Pirouette and the Fall of the Alamo.

I was chirked by Richard Le Gallienne's sentimentality for the rue Mouffetard in his "From a Paris Carrot." One of the lost alleys, the width of a taxi, back of the Pantheon. Jostled with a commerce that deals almost solely on sous. Smelly, gray and dismal with pot-au-feu poverty. Yet expressing the surprising charm of the mendicant who suddenly reveals himself the lyric poet. Villon loved Mouffetard.

I asked a haberdasher about a new vest style I like—the stock. He has but a few customers for them. All of the Long Island horse set wear them with their riding get-ups. Fulton Oursler and Grace Perkins, married writing folk, strike me as having the best time of any pair, living jointly by their pen. Overnight they may decide, say, Australia would be dandy fun and next morning they go up the gangplank and away.

M. was waving a figurative shillalah again today about my clinging but a few customers for them. All of the Long Island horse set wear them with their riding get-ups. Fulton Oursler and Grace Perkins, married writing folk, strike me as having the best time of any pair, living jointly by their pen. Overnight they may decide, say, Australia would be dandy fun and next morning they go up the gangplank and away.

Yesterday, en passant, I decided to drop in or rather up to Lowell Thomas's forty-first floor salon in Radio City to pay respects without appointment. My quest had something of the humor of Leon Erroll's wander for his train at the unfinished Grand Central in that scene in the Follies. Biggies in the spire are unlisted in the directory and the doors are without names. After several fumbling peeks I retreated in confusion followed by a gent with a derby and jutting jaw.

A snigger in hat story chatter writers are peddling. Mrs. Harrison Williams, celebrated for her costumes, took a group to Mexico City as guests. One couple didn't like the hotel, took a suite at another and departing sent the bill to their host. Rightly she refused to pay. Gramma had a name for that type—"do-less." Charles and Kathleen Norris have rounded in at the Chatham by motor from Palo Alto. Somerset Maugham recently acted as guide to show Lady Mendl the Acropolis. She gazed enraptured, then suddenly exclaimed: "Beige, my favorite color!"

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, April 27.—It looks as if the long and powerful arm of Andrew W. Mellon has penetrated all the way to Texas to wreak political vengeance against Wright Patman, the congressman who once introduced a resolution to impeach the "great" secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton.

Patman comes from Texas, Texas in which town Mr. Mellon has penetrated all the way to Texas to wreak political vengeance against Wright Patman, the congressman who once introduced a resolution to impeach the "great" secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton.

Now Texas politics report another Mellon move against Patman. A Baptist minister, David M. Phillips, appears to be financed through Uncle Andy to defeat the man who wanted to impeach him.

Phillips has resigned his pastorate, paid all his debts, bought a new car, and seems to have ample finances for a vigorous political campaign for congress.

Friends of the ex-secretary of the treasury say that he never forgets.

Supreme Court Justice McReynolds is noted for his irascible disposition both on and off the bench. He refuses to lunch with his colleagues, he read a newspaper while Justice Cardozo was indicted into office, and he talks in a loud, angry voice while delivering dissenting opinions.

But the Tennessee bachelor has his mellow moments, and at a recent gathering of the fraternity alumni he unbosomed to the extent of relating the following story:

A Scotchman (McReynolds himself is of Scotch descent, leaving a pub one night after considerable imbibing, was approached by a Salvation army lassie who extended her tambourine.

The man dropped a shilling into the tambourine and started to walk away. Then suddenly he turned and asked:

"What are you going to do with that money? What's it for?"

"For God," replied the Scotsman, "well, in that case give it back, because, my girl, I expect to see him before you do."

SABOTAGE

Blame for the latest labor eruption on the San Francisco waterfront is being placed, privately, on the shoulders of "Uncle Dan" Roper and Miss Frances Perkins.

Labor leaders claim that had it not been for undercover sabotage by these two cabinet members, a formula might have been worked out to bring permanent peace to the entire maritime industry. Here is what happened:

A group of New Dealers knew that another explosion was brewing on the San Francisco waterfront. And fearing the adverse political effect which continued labor disturbances might have on West Coast political sentiment, they laid before the President a plan for a permanent peace agency.

They proposed that congress create an independent maritime labor authority, with powers to arbitrate disputes in this industry as the U. S. mediation board does in the railroad field. This board has virtually abolished serious railway labor trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Park S. Roper were hosts at a pleasant dinner last evening. Mrs. Roper used a golden decorative scheme, and after the appetizing meal, bridge whist was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kendall scoring together and winning the prize. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Connell.

D. O. Minter, of West Orange, drove into the city last night to attend the Brown revival meeting. While he was listening to the emotional evangelist, someone took his horse and buggy from the corner of Second and Bush streets. The buggy and horse were found later, but the harness was gone.

This season's apricot crop in Orange county promises to be the best in the history of the industry. Those who have made observations estimate that the yield this year will be 30 per cent larger than last year, when 1,000 tons of dried apricots were produced, the returns averaging about 10 cents a pound, or a total of $200,000.

City Assessor Ed Vegely has appointed J. A. Timmons and P. B. Glover as deputies, and these gentlemen will commence their work of assessing on Monday morning.

The twenty-second annual Orange county W. C. T. U. convention at Orange is being largely attended by delegates from all over the county. Much interest and enthusiasm is shown. Mrs. J. N. Anderson gave a very helpful paper on California laws in relation to women and children.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Border Patrol Is Direct Swing to Despotism

COLORADO'S governor is on a high horse, proclaiming martial law along the southern border of the state. National guardsmen stride the 350-mile line, watching for luckless vagrants from New Mexico and Oklahoma. The irate governor says he may likewise put up barriers along the eastern border. So does the example set by California work its evil results.

All of this anti-feeling is in direct violation of the federal constitution. In that bulwark of our liberties, for unemployed and vagrants and all the lowly sons of the earth, as well as for the high and mighty freedom of movement is guaranteed. "The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens of the several states." And among our most cherished rights is that of taking up residence wherever we please.

Our whole national development has been based on this right of movement. One big difference between Americans and Europeans is that the former have always moved when they wanted to, and the latter were always hindered or forbidden to move. One can only guess what the pernicious effects would be if all states patrolled their borders, barring out

DOG HERO HONORED

To the editor: I wish to express my deep appreciation through the columns of your most valuable paper, to Mrs. Rosemonde Rae Wright and her company, for their untiring interest in leading the humane march into Santa Ana, where it is greatly needed.

A most interesting program was presented by the State Humane Education association, which was represented in Santa Ana, Thursday afternoon at the Spurgeon school, by Mrs. Rosemonde Rae Wright of Los Angeles. Robert Milton Byrne of Hollywood was accompanied by his beloved pal, Kentucky Boy, noted for his heroism, for which he won and wears many medals. Mr. Byrne related many acts of heroism by his dog, one in which a tree was falling, under which his master stood. Kentucky Boy barked furiously and pushed his master away, just in time to escape the heavy limb of the tree which would have killed his master instantly.

Mrs. Wright spoke profusely in reference to the new Humane Society and the Children's Band of Mercy, which is well under way. Mrs. Wright is lending her untiring support, for the new organization, directing many new features from her headquarters in Los Angeles.

Many beautiful flowers were presented to Kentucky Boy. It was indeed a very interesting and educational meeting, which all seemed to enjoy to the full extent and may lead to better things for Santa Ana in the near future.

U. S. PROGRAM ALONG SANTA ANA NEEDED
(San Bernardino Sun)

Should the Federal government finance its proposed $12,000,000 conservation program along the lower Santa Ana river, as provided in a bill approved by the Senate commerce committee, it is probable that much of the squabbling over water rights in the basin would disappear.

Orange county, long worried because of its dropping water levels, faces a serious situation. An attempt to share the costs of a program similar to that which the government now proposes to finance by bond issues was defeated in Orange county, however, because of clashing interests as to technical details of the program.

With the conserving and spreading of floodwaters in the lower basin, engineers assert that water levels would be raised, greatly benefiting Orange county's vast agricultural industry. If this were accomplished, Orange county interests would probably drop their search for more water in the upper basin and even on the Mojave desert.

Already Orange county interests have challenged the rights of upper basin users to spread water, precipitating Orange county threats to be both costly and fruitless. The suit is pending in the Federal courts.

There is too much of an attitude that the neighbor is to blame for the other man's plight in the basin, where the draft from the basin is heeded, the intake, some engineers hold.

If the government's program is effected it might be well for all users of the basin to meet for a round-table discussion of their problems. Such a meeting would probably do much toward eliminating the existing situation, in which there is admittedly a hint of distrust among all factions.

Drifted in to make a pastoral call on "Mickey" Walker, but he wouldn't talk. For a moment I thought he had consulted his attorney, but later found out that something had happened to his vocal apparatus, and he wasn't interested in conversation. Typewriters now and then, displayed in one of the business houses gives you an idea of the evolution of the machine method of recording words. One manufactured 57 years ago had a half-circle keyboard. They changed the style on account of the operator getting dizzy. Now you can look at a typewriter straight in the face. I know the keys are in proper location but I often miss the correct key. In the exhibition that I witnessed they have a bird operating a machine. It looked like a woodpecker to me. But if you think there hasn't been any progress in the manufacture of typewriters you better take a look at the display and you will change your mind. They do everything but talk. Intersections are beginning to look like a cross-word puzzle. There are so many blocks marked off that I got lost the other afternoon going across, and had to send for a dictionary before I was able to unravel my position. They have yellow lines, and white lines and red lines and green lines, and then every Thursday we have other lines. You can hear them roar. I complained some myself when the variety of colors and their various meaning confused me, but I'm still alive, much to the regret of some of my friends.

Newspaper heading: "Caterpillar Votes 50 Cents." That's crawling along the road to prosperity. After awhile it may turn the corner.

Met a rancher today who said he was going to compose a song entitled, "When the Rain Comes Over the Tehachapi." He said he was tired listening to the song about the moon coming over the mountains. He preferred rain, anyway. Moon and tides did not interest him any more. His groove had reached the age when sentimentality had to be discarded for moisture.

So he is in Louisiana! The card raised this morning is from Alexandria, the content sounds like him, and there is a similarity in signature. So I have received the maximum of satisfaction out of a minimum of expense. The cost of transportation was one cent. Yes, you are right, the message is from Bert Casteix. He insists he is having a good time, and that Louisiana has some capital building. In case you have forgotten, the location is at Baton Rouge.

Out of a general conversation the information was volunteered that Bruce Switzer, formerly of this city, now at Merced, was identified with one of the leading department stores in that city, and at the peak of his business experience. He was an active citizen in community affairs, and "going strong," to use the common vernacular. Bruce's many Santa Ana friends will be pleased to hear of his progress. When a citizen of Santa Ana he always contributed his time and talent to progressive movements. Here's continued good luck to his endeavors.

It only takes a tooth extraction to make a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde out of a man. An otherwise pleasant disposition can be perforated. Oh, well, variety is the spice of life, and the course of an even disposition must occasionally get out of its banks, else where would we get the spices? I'll be normal in a few days.

Ray Lambert is peeved because his affinity—Ernie Sawyer—has only sent him one small souvenir card. Ernie is vacationing in Texas. If Lambert was expecting a letter every day he must be awfully lonesome by this time. Perhaps it's Lambert's fault. He should have given Sawyer a liberal supply of stamps.
